DEUBA, OLI STRIKE POWER-SHARING DEAL TO OUST NEPAL PM PRACHANDA

Nepali Congress and CPN-UML have inked a deal to form a new 'national consensus government' to replace the coalition govt led by Prachanda

CHINA'S MAN OLI TO BE PM FOR NEXT 1.5 YRS

Under the deal, Nepali Congress president Sher Bahadur Deuba (78) and Communist Party of Nepal-United Marxist Leninist chairman K P Sharma Oli (72) will share the PM post on a rotational basis. The two leaders will share the premiership for one-and-a-half years each. Under the deal, Oli, known for his pro-China stance, will lead the government in the first phase

PRACHANDA NOT TO QUIT, FACE TRUST VOTE

■ Nepali Congress, the largest party in the House of Representatives (HoR), has 89 seats, while CPN-UML has 78 seats. Their combined strength is 167, which is sufficient for a majority of 138 seats in the 275-member HoR | P15
■ Communist Party of Nepal (Maoist Centre) leader Pushpa Kamal Dahal Prachanda (69) has refused to resign, saying he will rather face a trust vote

WHO IS BHOLE BABA

A former official with the intelligence wing of Uttar Pradesh Police, Suraj Pal turned Narayan Vishwa Hari Bhole Baba took voluntary retirement to pursue his spiritual call. He conducts weekly prayer meets at various places every Tuesday, attracting many. Not a follower of any guru, he claims to have got divine vision straight from God

DIFFERENT VERSIONS ON HOW IT HAPPENED

According to some reports, the tragedy may have happened when devotees tried to get a glimpse of the Bhole Baba and collect some soil from around the baba's feet. After the satsang ended, the baba got up to leave. The place where he sat is considered sacred by devotees. Many devotees rushed to the spot to collect soil, leading to stampede

At least 117 people, including women and children, died due to suffocation and fatal injuries after a stampede broke out at a religious congregation in Uttar Pradesh's Hathras district on Tuesday afternoon. Officials said the toll may go up as scores of people were seriously injured in the mele.

The accident happened in Phulrai village of Ratihampur locality under Sikan-dra tehsil area of Hathras district around 3 pm on Tuesday.

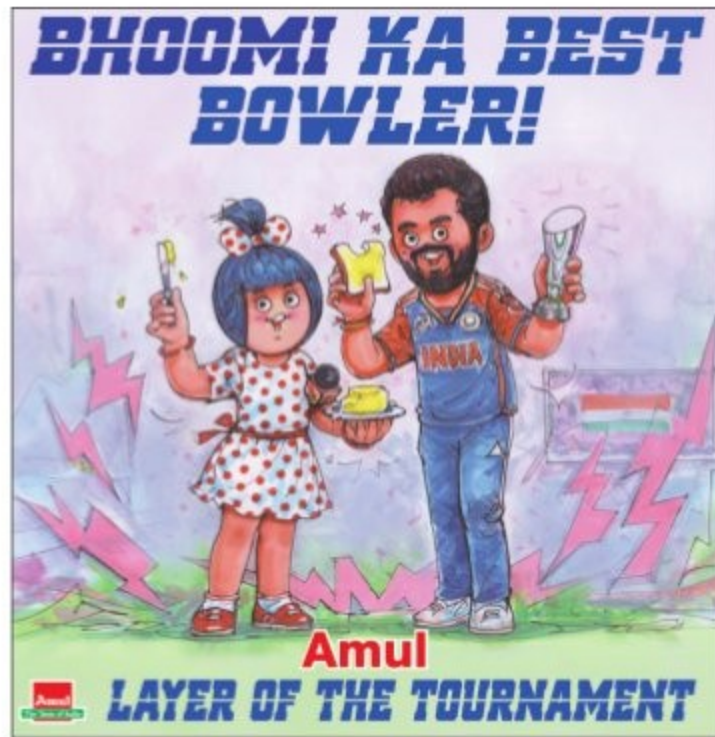

According to Etah SP Rajesh Kumar Singh, as soon as the satsang (prayer meeting) got over, people who were packed in a small hall rushed out. They fell over each other, leading to stampede. Aligarh Range IG Shalabh Mathur confirmed 117 deaths, while unofficial reports put the number at 130.

Police officials say a huge gathering of around 15,000 people had thronged the venue to attend the satsang held by Bhole Baba, a popular preacher who has followers in Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, and Haryana. The venue was packed to the brim. "The number of attendees exceeded the administration's permitted limit at the venue, leading to a stampede during Bhole Baba's satsang," a statement by the state government said. An FIR has been registered against the organisers and the baba, who is reportedly absconding.

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath said the government will thoroughly investigate whether it was a 'tragedy or a conspiracy' and take action against those responsible. He also constituted a probe team comprising Additional Director General of Police Agra zone Anupam Kulshreshtha and Aligarh Divisional Commissioner Chaitra V to ascertain the reasons for the mishap. He has sought the probe report within 24 hours.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced an ex-gratia compensation of ₹2 lakh to the family of the deceased and ₹50,000 each to the injured. The Uttar Pradesh government will also give similar compensation to the victims.

Modi slams Rahul with his 'balak buddhi' barb

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

IN a strong pushback against Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi's fiery speech, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday said that the country would not forgive the Congress MP for centuries for his hurtful comments about Hindus. Replying to the debate on the Motion of Thanks to President's address in the Lok Sabha, the Prime Minister said, "People will not forgive them for centuries... Hindus are tolerant. A conspiracy was hatched to falsely accuse Hindus. It was said Hindus are violent. This is your character, thinking, and hatred."

Rahul had on Monday alleged that BJP leaders claim to be Hindus, but they talk only of violence and hatred. Many of his comments were later expunged by the Chair.

In his more than two-hour-long speech, Modi repeatedly took potshots at Rahul and the Congress. Asserting that the Grand Old Party delivered its third worst performance in the general election and failed to reach the 250-mark after the 1984 polls, he said, "The country is telling him that you are not up to it."

The Lower House saw utter chaos throughout the speech as the Opposition staged protests and trooped into the well, raising slogans of 'justice for Manipur'.

Taking a swipe at Rahul, Modi called him 'balak buddhi'

REVISED NORMS ON OATH TAKING

On the alleged irregularities in NEET-UG, Modi said his government is taking steps on a war footing to prevent their recurrence, adding the guilty will not be spared. Arrests are taking place across the country, he said.

Nothing wrong in MUDA allocating sites to wife: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Tuesday maintained that there was nothing wrong with the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) allotting sites to his wife.

"The sites were given to us when the BJP was in power in the state. MUDA had developed sites in our three-acre-sixteen-gunta land near the ring road in Kesare (in Mysuru). It was my wife's land," he told reporters, responding to a question on alleged irregularities in MUDA.

The land was purchased by Siddaramaiah's brother-in-law Mallikarjuna, who had gifted it to his sister (the CM's wife). "Knowingly or unknowingly, MUDA developed sites in our three-acre and 16-gunta land and distributed them. They had not acquired the land, but developed the sites," the CM said. MUDA agreed to give Siddaramaiah's wife 50% of the developed sites. "We asked them to give us sites as per the law and the government orders. We had made the request when BJP was in power. Since land was not available there, sites of equal measurement were given in another place. What is wrong with that," the CM asked.

He said it was done as per law and the decision to give sites on a 50:50 basis was taken when BJP was in power.

The BJP, however, demanded a probe into the alleged irregularities. LoP R Ashoka asked who recommended alternative sites in an area with higher land prices. Terming it a Rs 4,000-crore scam, he sought a probe by the CBI or by a retired judge. Meanwhile, the government ordered a probe by two IAS officers to look into alleged irregularities and transferred top MUDA officials. Ashoka said the government-ordered probe is to cover up the wrongdoings in MUDA. P4

1 DENGUE DEATH 1,902 cases... BBMP on high alert

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH one dengue death and positive cases close to breaching the 2,000-mark in the city, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said patients with a platelet count of less than 20,000 need a transfusion.

Addressing the media on Tuesday, he said, "Dengue cases are reported from June to August or September every year. It peaks in September but this time it peaked in June. Last year, there were only 750 cases in June, however, cases this year have doubled."

He said the Palike is forming teams and working to make people aware of dengue and how it can be controlled. "We have 6,000 testing kits across Bengaluru to check positive cases from symptomatic patients. Campaigning is done, handbills are reaching every house and awareness is being spread. We will also put up awareness advertisements at bus stands," said Girinath.

He also noted that 95 per cent of cases are reported from private hospitals, compared to patients who come to Primary Health Centres, and instructions have been given to all private hospitals to share their report with BBMP health officers.

Chief Health Officer Sirajuddin Madani said although the number of cases is high, it is not alarming. Last year around the same time, the city had already reported five deaths. All precautions are being taken and health workers are on the ground, conducting surveys, spraying and reducing breeding sources and sites.

2 MORE DEATHS IN STATE

45-year-old Manjamma Karibasappa who was diagnosed with dengue, died at Vaddarahatti village in Hosapete, and as many as 21 positive cases have been reported from the Vijayanagara district. The district admin has instructed the health department to take necessary steps to control the spread of the virus. Another Class seven student from Hassan, Akshata is suspected to have died of dengue. She was suffering from fever for the past 10 days, and was admitted to a private hospital in Hassan before being shifted to HIMS. Over 200 people are suffering from dengue in the district.

'Test rates to be fixed, pvt hosps must report all cases'

ENS @ Bengaluru

RATES for dengue testing in private hospitals will be fixed, and private hospitals should mandatorily inform the government about dengue-positive cases, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao said.

Rao was addressing the media after holding a coordination meeting with BBMP, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj department and Health department officials on dengue control, at Vidhana Soudha on Tuesday. He said a circular on rates to be charged by private hospitals for dengue testing will be issued on Wednesday.

Compared to last year, this time there is an increase of 42 per cent in dengue testing, Rao said, adding that deaths can only be prevented when cases are detected early.

Replying to questions from the media, the minister said, "A total of 6,187 dengue-positive cases have been detected in the state from January till June, with Bengaluru alone reporting 1,563 cases. Chikkamagaluru, Mysuru, Chitradurga, Haveri, Shivamogga and Dakshina Kannada have over 400 cases each. Of the total cases, 56 per cent are from rural areas and the remaining 44 per cent are reported from cities."

He said that to date, there have been six dengue deaths in the state, and death audits will be done. Rao also said the case fatality rate is 0.09 per cent, which is below 0.5 per cent as per national guidelines.

Directing officials to create awareness about dengue and its spread, Rao said, "BBMP officials and ASHA workers should visit every house and create awareness about dengue. In rural areas, medical officers of Primary Health Centres should visit every school falling under their jurisdiction and create awareness among children about dengue."

Dengue source reduction campaign will be held every Friday, and all BBMP and health department officials will be on the field.

Prepare for white topping projects: Tushar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath instructed Palike officials to make all the necessary arrangements to take up white topping works in the city.

Addressing the inter-departmental coordination meeting regarding the implementation of white topping work in the city, on Tuesday, Girinath said that the work is being undertaken in 15 packages, out of which 13 packages have already been finalised and the contractors have been given the mandate.

The other two packages are awaiting clearance from the state government, and it has been suggested to make preparations works.

As BBMP will begin white topping works the city, Tushar Girinath instructed the other departments including Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB), Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited (BESCOM), Karnataka Power Corporation Limited (KPCL), and GAIL to conduct a survey and submit a report.

He contended that once the white topping work is completed, permission to dig the road will not be approved, for any reason at all. The list of roads where white topping work will be done, has already been given to all the departments.

According to the list, a joint review has already been conducted, and the final stage of preparations should be made and the work should be started, he instructed.

White topping work is being taken up on the long road. Traffic police requested alternative routes be marked in the area where the work is being conducted. Girinath also said that the work will be carried out day and night and will be completed within the time limit.

State to follow Centre's plastic mgmt rules

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

DESPITE the ban on single-use plastic carry bags, large quantities of such used bags are seen strewn across towns and cities. Further, prohibited plastic carry bags are in circulation in the name of biodegradable ones.

Taking note of this, Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar Khandre has directed the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) officials to drop or amend the plastic waste management rules. He also directed them to follow the rules introduced by the Union Government on using biodegradable carry bags that dissolve within 180 days.

Khandre had held a meeting with the officials earlier, sought to know why prohibited plastic carry bags are still in use. He told them to take steps and ensure that biodegradable vegetable poly liquid acid polymer bags are manufactured and sold.

The minister asked the officials to submit a report on adopting the Central Environment Department's Plastic Waste Management (Amendment) Rules, 2021-22. When the officials explained that bags made of maize extract, will dissolve within six months, Khandre said if it is proved scientifically, then permission could be granted to manufacture them for public use.

Principal secretary of ecology and environment, BP Ravi told TNIE that new rules are being framed and they will be sent to the urban development and finance departments for approval. Later, they will be sent to the state cabinet. The new rules are being framed to change the definition of plastic carry bags, since processed plastic is used in place of biodegradable bags, and prohibited plastic carry bags are also in circulation, he said.

03rd July: Many years ago we thought there were canals on the planet Mars. Then we decided that there was no water there at all. In more recent years we changed our minds and concluded that there had been water on Mars a long time ago, but that now it had all disappeared. ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

You really don't have any choice but to listen to partners. Compromise will be the greatest commodity around, and a tactical retreat in the short-term will help you win the battle in the long run. Besides, if you make suggestions to other people, they might expect you to put them into practice.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

You still have a great deal of emotional power, which of course means that you also have a responsibility towards others. It is much easier than you imagine to manipulate their feelings, even unintentionally. That's why you should be careful about what you say!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

You are all too prone to worries which have no basis in fact whatsoever. You may also imagine that someone is out to do you down, but realise that first thoughts, like first impressions, can often be misleading. This is no time to jump to rash conclusions.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)

The emotional temperature is rising. The more directed and focused you are, and the clearer your ambitions, the better off you'll be. If you are currently stumbling around in the dark, come back to reality immediately and set yourself some realistic targets.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

It's a useful day to put forward unlikely suggestions, especially if you've set your heart on a new job or promotion. There's also an increasing likelihood that you'll be taken away from home or from your usual base. Still, it might do you good to get out and about.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sept 23)

Amid all the hurly-burly of daily life, it's very important to pay a little extra attention to the ethical issues and moral questions. You should take the lead in enforcing higher standards not by preaching, but by setting a worthy example. Other people should do as you do, not just as you say!

LIBRA (Sept 24 - Oct 23)

A little extra confidence will come in handy today, especially if it's time to put your foot down at home. You have put up with other people's irritating whims and foibles for far too long, but please don't sink to their level. Try to show them where they've gone wrong - with sympathy and understanding, of course.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

When all is said and done you can only do so much, and other people must recognise that even if you bend over backwards to help, it might not do them any good. So, concentrate on what you think is important, and try to make partners see that you're not letting them down.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 22)

Stay busy and recognise that collaboration is essential at work. You will have to carry colleagues with you if you are to get your own way, and if you go it alone then your options may be narrowed down. And don't worry that you're being undermined. If you do things right then you can't be touched.

CAPRICORN (Dec 23 - Jan 20)

Your travel stars are now extra-dynamically imagi-native, and getting more so by the day. In one sense this means that you should focus on adventurous plans, but also bear in mind that contacts should be forged with loved ones, friends and acquaintances overseas.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

Take a step back and consider all personal matters from the long-term perspective. There are broader patterns in your life, and it is only by understanding these that you will figure out current strains. It may even be that a dose of stress is good for you.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

Business matters become more important, and you may be about to tap deep veins of entrepreneurial talent and skill, striking a few bagains and impressing other people with your totally unexpected grasp of the facts. It's amazing how your charm and winning ways can help you turn in a profit.

IN DA CASE, COURT FINES BESCOM EX-AEE ₹1CR WITH 3 YRS IN JAIL

Officer, wife failed to substantiate for ₹96.09L found in possession

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

OBSERVING that the word 'public servant' itself has become the licence in the recent past to demand bribes openly or acquire assets illegally without any fear, the Special Court to deal with cases under the Prevention of Corruption Act in the city sentenced a former assistant executive engineer (AEE) of Bescom to three years of rigorous imprisonment and imposed a whopping fine of Rs 1 crore.

Judge KM Radhakrishna passed the order on June 29, while sentencing C Ramalingaiah, deputed to the Public Works Department from Bescom when the case was booked in 2011. Charges of disproportionate assets (DA) were proved against him.

"I am of the opinion that stringent punishment, particularly in the cases of corruption, is the need of the hour to ensure sincere devotion and attention by public servants in discharging the official functions honestly in the larger interest of the society," the judge said.

During the check period from 1984 to 2011, Ramalingaiah's total assets and expenditure were Rs 3.28 crore and his income was Rs 2.32 crore. The remaining Rs 96.09 lakh (41.41%) was treated as DA.

The court said, "Needless to say that in the recent past, the word public servant itself has become a licence for persons like the accused to courageously and openly demand bribes or illegally acquire assets in the matter of discharging the official duties. Particularly the poor, voiceless, helpless and downtrodden people, who are the backbone of society, are becoming real victims at the hands of corrupt public servants. Totally, corruption from bottom to top in the system has become the biggest challenge not only to a healthy society, but also developing countries like ours. Because of this situation, the people are losing faith in the administrative mechanism of the government."

Ramalingaiah claimed that his wife had borrowed Rs 40 lakh loan from private persons. But the court said that the wife, being the income tax assessee, should have reflected either the said hand loan transaction or the repayment of the loans including the source in her income tax returns. Admittedly, no such declaration is made by both the husband and wife while declaring their other incomes. More importantly, the wife was not examined to prove it or its repayment and the source. Also, the accused did not declare the loan obtained from other sources in his annual property returns, the court added.

'Missing' for 4 years, man found at KIA immigration

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A MAN who left his home in Chennai four years ago after suffering heavy business losses, and had a 'Missing' complaint registered against him, was finally found on Tuesday morning in Bengaluru when he was about to board a flight to Phuket, Thailand.

Alert immigration staff at Terminal 2 of Kempegowda International Airport detained him just before he was to depart. He was reunited with his wife and nine-year-old son in Chennai the same evening. The case dates back to March 23, 2020, when his wife Bhamita filed a 'Missing' complaint at Thousand Lights police station in Chennai.

Airport police told TNIE, "A lookout notice had been issued by Tamil Nadu police against Mohammad Wajid, a resident of Perambur. He was to board an IndiGo flight to Phuket, which had a departure time of 6.10am. When immigration checks were being carried out, an officer who cross-checked his identity papers detained him."

Wajid was brought to BIAL police station, where he confessed that he had left his family to escape from the business losses he had suffered. "Cops at Thousand Lights police station in Chennai, where the complaint was filed four years ago, were alerted. They flew down immediately, and took Wajid with them," the source added.

A police officer from Tamil Nadu said, "Wajid did not have any major issue returning to his hometown as he had paid up much of the debt he had incurred during this period."

No bail for Udupi quadruple murder accused

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court rejected the bail petition filed by the accused in the Udupi quadruple murder case, considering the technical evidence relied on by the prosecution.

Justice MG Uma passed the order dismissing the petition of Praveen Arun Chougule (40) from Mangaluru, saying he is not entitled for bail, considering the seriousness of the offence. The accused, who was an employee at a private airline when the crime took place, was arrested on November 15, 2023, for murdering Aynaz, an air hostess, and three of her family members. A chargesheet against Chougule was filed by the Malpe police. "Even though there are no eyewitnesses to the incident, the prosecution is relying on all these circumstantial evidence, which are strong enough to point an accusing finger at the accused at this stage. The prosecution is also relying on CCTV footage showing the movement of the accused," said Justice Uma, while rejecting bail.

As per the submission made by Additional State Public Prosecutor Jagadeesha BN and government advocate Rahul Rai K, the accused was identified in the test identification parade, the sketch matched with him by up to 98 per cent, his hair sample found on one of the bodies matched with his DNA, and his blood-stained clothes matched the DNA of the deceased. Also, the car of the accused, which had a location tracker, showed the movement of the vehicle on the day of the incident and the previous day, when he had gone near the house of the victims. There was also an exchange of audio, photo and text messages between the petitioner and one of the deceased whom he liked. The victim had later blocked his WhatsApp number and all text messages had not reached her.

Chougule went in his car to a toll plaza, took a bus to Santhekatte and then went in an auto-rickshaw to the house of the deceased. After he murdered Aynaz, her elder sister Afnan chanced upon him, so he stabbed her to death. The mother of the deceased, Haseena, was also killed. When the accused went out of the house, the brother of the deceased, Aseem, aged 14, came to the spot and was killed.

Couple dies by suicide after daughter-in-law leaves home

BENGALURU: Upset after their daughter-in-law returned to her parents' home over a family issue, Chandrashekar (56) and his wife Sharada (46) hanged themselves in their house in Byappanahalli police station limits on Monday. They were staying with their older son Surya Prashanth, his wife, and their younger son, Shreyas. After marriage, Prashanth's wife had been insisting that they live separately as she didn't like staying with her parents-in-law. As Prashanth wanted to stay with his parents, his wife returned to her parents' house. Despite the family trying to convince her, she did not return. Perturbed by the turn of events, the couple reportedly ended their lives. ENS

KARNATAKA SEES 2% DEFICIT RAIN IN JUNE, TO BE NORMAL IN JULY

Highest shortage in Hassan at 45%; V'pura receives 136% excess rainfall, B'luru 55%

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

NEARLY a month after the onset of southwest monsoon, Karnataka, as a whole, recorded a 2% deficit rainfall for June. While the India Meteorological Department (IMD) has forecast heavy rainfall over most parts of the country in July, it will be normal for Karnataka. In the state, the rainfall will reduce for the next couple of days, before picking up pace.

IMD data showed that from June 1 to July 2, the state received 212.5 mm rainfall as against the normal of 216.5 mm. The normal rainfall for July is 252.2 mm.

The highest deficit of 45% was recorded in Hassan district, where against the normal of 172.4 mm, it received 95.6 mm. The second-highest deficit of 43% was in Haveri. Against the normal of 130mm, it received 74.3 mm.

The maximum rainfall was reported in Vijayapura district at 136%. It received 216.3 mm, against the normal of 91.8 mm. It was followed by Ballari at 127%. Against the normal of 75 mm, it recorded 170.5 mm. Vijayanagara district received 116% rainfall.

Bengaluru Urban recorded a 55% excess rainfall. Against the normal of 77.8mm, it recorded 119.2mm. Bengaluru Rural recorded 73% excess rainfall. As against 69mm, it recorded 119.2 mm.

India Meteorological Department, Bengaluru, Director in charge, N Puviarasan, told The New Indian Express that there is no forecast of cyclone formation for July. The conditions are favourable for the formation of trough and upper air cyclonic circulation. The models are predicting their formation, which will help ensure good rainfall over the state.

Despite the deficit, the rainfall helped increase the reservoir levels to some extent, said officials from the Karnataka State National Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC). The rainfall in catchment areas is now vital to ensure there is sufficient water in the coming months, they added.

As per KSNDMC data, the present storage in the Cauvery basin is 48%. On July 2 last year, it was 31.45 tmcft, while this year, it is 55.31 tmcft. The water level in the Krishna basin is 24%. Levels in the reservoirs as on July 2 is 103.2 tmcft this year, as compared to 72.55 tmcft last year. The water level in Vani Vilas Sagar is 60%. The present storage is 18.13 tmcft against 24.92 tmcft on July 2 last year.

BJP state unit exec panel meet on July 4

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE BJP Karnataka's executive meeting will be held in Bengaluru's Palace Grounds on July 4. The meeting will adopt a resolution against what the party called the State Government's failures. This will be the first executive committee meeting of the state BJP after the recent Lok Sabha polls.

The BJP will also hold a two-day review meeting from July 5 with unsuccessful candidates.

Speaking to reporters, state BJP general secretary Nandish Reddy said 1,745 members from across the state are expected to take part in the event. Reddy said that state BJP president BY Vijayendra will preside over the event, and Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways Gadkari has been invited as a special invitee. Senior BJP leader Radhamohan Agarwal, who was the party's Karnataka in-charge for the LS polls, is also expected to take part. "The purpose of the meeting is to reach out to every single booth," he said.

Vijayendra will hold a meeting for two days from July 5 in Bengaluru, where he will be reviewing the reasons for losing certain Lok Sabha seats in Karnataka.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah strikes a gong to mark KMF procuring 1 crore litre of milk daily, in Bengaluru on Tuesday | EXPRESS

'Milestone': Milk production touches 1 cr litre per day in K'taka, says CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

MILK production in Karnataka has touched a record high of 1 crore litre per day, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has said. In June last year, milk production in the state was 90 lakh litre per day. Speaking to the media after offering puja to cows as part of the celebrations to mark the achievement, the CM said it was a major milestone in the history of the Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF).

Siddaramaiah recalled that when he was the Animal Husbandry Minister in the past, he had handed over the dairies to the milk unions. "Until then, the dairies and the milk unions worked as separate entities. Milk societies are also farmers' organisations," the chief minister added.

There are close to 16,000 societies and 15 milk unions in Karnataka. In some places, two or three districts have joined hands to form a union.

As milk production increased, the government decided to add 50 ml of milk to half-litre milk packet and charge Rs 2 more. "The produced milk has to be procured, as we cannot refuse milk from farmers and societies. The quantity of milk has been increased to help the farmers," the CM said, adding that the BJP was making false allegations as they do not care about the farmers. The price of milk in Karnataka is low compared to other states, the CM reiterated. He said that farmers are being supported by providing subsidies of Rs 150 crore per month and Rs 1,800 crore per year.

MLA seeks probe into MUDA plot allotment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

IN the light of alleged irregularities in the distribution of plots under 50:50 ratio by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), MLA TS Srivatsa has urged the State Government to begin investigation through a SIT or retired judge.

He told reporters here on Tuesday that a thorough investigation is required, and regardless of political affiliation or position, anyone found guilty, including those during the BJP government's tenure, should face action. "We must uphold the integrity of Mysuru," he said. Srivatsa said he had received several anonymous letters regarding MUDA's malpractices. Based on this information, he submitted a complaint to the chief secretary and secretary of Urban Development department.

He highlighted the case of a victim who had lost land and applied for compensation on October 20, 2023, yet an order was issued on October 7, 2023. "How did MUDA officials know in advance about this application?" he questioned.

He expressed concern over documents related to the irregularities being transferred to Bengaluru, fearing tampering. Srivatsa criticised the current approach, where farmers whose land was acquired in 1964 for the development of Gokulam Layout, are now being allocated plots in a 50:50 ratio. He suspected similar irregularities elsewhere, with approximately 91,000 sqft being allocated as compensation by MUDA, despite 85,000 individuals in Mysuru still awaiting plots. He suggested reallocating these plots to provide shelter for the underprivileged.

Srivatsa called for a transparent probe. "Despite filing a complaint, I wasn't invited to the meeting by the urban development minister who chaired a meeting on Monday. The minister announced the intention to cancel plot approvals and conduct investigations, but no formal orders have been issued," he stated.

Srivatsa also questioned the minister's protection of MUDA officials and the four-week timeframe given for investigation.

38 CASES UNDER NEW LAWS IN B'LURU

38 cases were registered under the new criminal laws in Bengaluru City Police Commissionerate on Monday. Of them, seven cases were registered under BNS and 31 under BNSS. City Police Commissioner B Dayananda said that the police did not face any legal hurdles or technical issues while registering the complaints. Whitefield division police registered nine case under the new laws, followed by South East division with six.

Not everything in new laws bad, debate must: Dr G

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, and the Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam replacing the IPC, CrPc, and Evidence Act, Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara has said that not all sections in the new laws are bad. Speaking to the media on Tuesday, Dr Parameshwara said that the Union Government has gotten rid of several outdated British-era laws and replaced them with modern and relevant ones suitable for the present age. However, there are loopholes in certain sections that need to be debated, he said. "We will submit our recommendations to the Centre. If similar findings come from other states, the Centre has to accept and make changes," he said.

On the first day of implementation, over 80 cases have been booked under the new laws in Karnataka, he said. "We are training our staff and they will learn it in a month or two," Dr Parameshwara said.

On the new laws criminalising fasting as an attempt to commit suicide, the minister said such aspects need to be debated. "According to the new laws, many cases that were booked earlier under certain sections cannot be registered now. This needs to be debated. The new laws also say we need to drop some cases that are under investigation. This has to be conveyed to the Union Government," he added.

Online booking soon for all trekking spots in K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mangaluru

KARNATAKA Minister for Forest, Environment and Ecology Eshwar Khandre has said that online booking will be introduced for all trekking routes in the state from July third week in order to regulate the process.

Speaking to reporters after a review meeting of Mangaluru circle of the Forest Department, Khandre said that the department has already introduced online booking for Kudremukh, Netravathi and other trekking peaks in Mangaluru circle and the same will be extended across the state.

A software, which provides online booking for all trekking spots in a single website, is being developed and it will be ready in a fortnight, the minister said. The new system is aimed at putting an end to irregularities in the booking system by streamlining the process, he said. Khandre said the Forest Department has set a target to plant 5 crore saplings in Karnataka this year and the work has already begun. Last year, 5.43 crore saplings were planted against the target of 5 crore. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has promised an additional grant of Rs 100 crore for this purpose, Khandre said. In Mangaluru circle, he said 26.5 lakh saplings were planted last year of which more than 90% survived. This year, in Mangaluru circle, over 12 lakh saplings have been raised in various nurseries and they will be planted by July-end. Also mangroves will be developed on 150 acres by planting 10 lakh saplings, he added.

The minister said he has instructed the officials to take action against violations in the Coastal Regulation Zone in a time-bound manner. Also, the encroachment of forest lands in the circle will be cleared at the earliest by vacating the court stays, he said.

Stating that the ban on single-use plastic in some places introduced last year was not effective despite seizure of plastic manufacturing units and other measures due to lack of awareness among people and staff shortage, Khandre said they will intensify this work on war-footing this time in order to protect the environment and wildlife.

At the Environment Day celebration to be held at Kanterava Stadium in Bengaluru on July 3, the minister said 25-30 stalls will create awareness on e-waste, benefits of sewage treatment plants and how pollution will adversely affect the health.

Master of his game, HDK's stock rising within NDA

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

UNION Minister of State for Railways V Somanna recently said that only JDS leader and Union Minister of Heavy Industries and Steel HD Kumaraswamy knows when the Congress government in Karnataka will fall.

Kumaraswamy himself had indicated that the government in the state will be dislodged by December this year. What is interesting is that Somanna did not direct his remarks at BJP leader BS Yediyurappa, who has successfully executed four rounds of Operation Lotus in Karnataka, but at Kumaraswamy, who has emerged as a prominent leader within the NDA block in the state.

Somanna's comments could be because of infighting within BJP with factions aligning with Yediyurappa and BL Santhosh, which are fighting for control of the party state unit. There is also talk of Leader of Opposition R Ashoka being changed and replaced with OBC leader Sunil Kumar or some other candidate sometime in the future. BJP leaders themselves confess that the party is a divided house and Somanna recently stated that lack of coordina-

JANATA DARSHAN IN MANDYA

Union Minister of Heavy Industries and Steel HD Kumaraswamy will hold a Janata Darshan to receive grievances and petitions from people, in his constituency Mandya on Friday. Sources said officials from the district administration are expected to participate. The minister's office had written to the Mandya District Collector to make arrangements for the programme and Ambedkar Bhavan has been selected as the venue.

tion within the party led to its poor show in the Lok Sabha elections in the Kalyan-Karnataka region.

Though former CMs Basavaraj Bommai and Jagadish Shettar and Pralhad Joshi too have been elected MPs, it is Kumaraswamy who has emerged as the strongest NDA leader from Karnataka, bagging the important portfolios of steel and heavy industries. This makes it clear that Kumaraswamy's stock is only growing within the NDA-BJP alliance.

Political observers said that Kumaraswamy has come a long way since 2006 when he used to sit in the back benches of JDS in the Assembly, chatting with Santosh Lad, who was with JDS then, or Balraj, who is not an MLA anymore, or Zameer Ahmed Khan, who too was part of JDS. Many recall how no one took him seriously. Starting off as a film distributor, he used to shuttle between Bengaluru and Holenarasipur, where the family owns a cinema, Chennamma Theatre. He soon became a mega mobiliser by bringing together JDS and BJP MLAs to bring down the Dharam Singh government in 2006.

An astute politician, when Kumaraswamy says a government will fall, no one can take him lightly. Though the task appears onerous, nothing is impossible when he is around.

BJP seeks apology from Rahul over his remark on Hindus in Lok Sabha

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE BJP has sought an apology from the Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha, Rahul Gandhi, over his remarks on the Hindu community in the Lower House of the Parliament.

Addressing the media in Bengaluru, state BJP president BY Vijayendra said Rahul's debut speech as the LoP was full of baseless allegations and lies. "Rahul has insulted the entire Hindu community, and he has to apologise," Vijayendra said, adding that the Congress MP's behaviour was a disgrace as it violated rules.

"Even during the polls, Rahul Gandhi traveled across the country spreading lies. Now, as LoP, he has continued his old practices. He should uphold the values, but he is not doing it," the BJP leader said, adding that Rahul has also insulted Agniveer, farmers, and others and misused the House for his speeches.

Further, Vijayendra said that in 2010, the then Union Home Minister Chidambaram called Hindus terrorists. "In 2013, Susheel Kumar Shinde too spoke on the same lines. In 2021, Rahul Gandhi stated that those who support Hindutva should be kicked out of the country, and now he has repeated the same in his speech. In Karnataka, too, PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi made a similar statement. Rahul has also insulted the Speaker. He has to apologise," he added.

BJP MLAs CT Ravi said that Rahul Gandhi is a puppet of the conversion mafia.

Hitting back at BJP, Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara said, "The Hindu community represents peace and takes everyone along. Those who are against peace are not Hindus, and this is what Rahul Gandhi said. BJP members did not understand his speech."

TN TO PROBE COAL PURCHASE FROM ADANI

There were allegations of a Rs 6,000-cr scam in procurement by state power utility

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

THE Tamil Nadu government has given permission to the Directorate of Vigilance and Anti Corruption (DVAC) to start a preliminary inquiry into the alleged Rs 6,000-crore scam in the procurement of poor quality coal by state power utility Tangedco from an Adani group company between 2012 and 2016, sources said. The permission was given in June by the public department headed by the chief secretary, sources said. No official statement, however, has been issued in this regard so far.

A preliminary inquiry is to be carried out by the DVAC to check if the allegations made out in the complaint filed by an anti-corruption NGO in 2018 to the DVAC merit formal registration of FIR.

The complaint is based on a 2017 CAG (Comptroller and Auditor General of India) report which said that Tangedco was supplied with lower quality coal (based on calorific value) from Indonesia by suppliers than what was mandated under the tender conditions.

The CAG had compared data from customs to show that while the coal supplied had 4,500 KCal/kg calorific value, it was supposed to have 6,000 KCal/kg.

Of the 2.44 crore metric tonnes supplied to Tangedco during that period, the Adani group company had supplied 1.19 crore metric tonnes, the complaint said, quoting documents.

NGO Arappor Iyakkam, which had filed the complaint with the DVAC, had also alleged that Tangedco officials had manipulated the tender conditions to favour the company. The NGO had also compared the coal purchase order of another state government organisation, Tamil Nadu Newsprint Ltd (TNPL), to show that coal bought by TNPL was 20% cheaper per metric tonne than the price paid by Tangedco.

Six gamblers drown in bid to escape police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayapura

AT least six persons were feared drowned after their coracle overturned at Baluti jackwell in Krishna river near Kolhar town, around 45 km from Vijayapura, on Tuesday.

The incident occurred when some men, who were playing cards on the riverbank, jumped onto the coracle, scared that the police were coming to arrest them for gambling. In a hurry to escape, they boarded the coracle kept on the riverbank by fishermen, and oared it a distance. But suddenly, strong winds shook the coracle and they lost control. The circular structure, built from bamboo and polythene sheets, overturned. Two of the eight men on the coracle swam to safety, but six others drowned.

After they were alerted, the police and Fire and Emergency personnel rushed to the spot and recovered two bodies. The search was on for the remaining bodies till late Tuesday evening.

Superintendent of Police Risikesh Sonawane and other police officials rushed to the spot. The Kolhar police station has registered a case.

Accusing local leaders, farmer dies by suicide

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad/Khammam

ALLEGING that his agriculture land was dug up and grabbed with the support of local leaders of the ruling Congress and TDP, Bogella Prabhakar, a 43-year-old farmer, died by suicide after recording a video clip in Khammam on Monday evening.

The farmer hailed from Produtur of Chintakani mandal in Madhira constituency in Khammam district which is represented by Deputy Chief Minister Mallu Bhatti Vikramarka in the Assembly.

The suicide sparked off a political slugfest in the state on Tuesday with the Opposition BRS blaming the ruling party for the death of the farmer. Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy directed officials to take action against those responsible for the death of the farmer.

In the video, purportedly taken by some other person, Prabhakar alleges that some persons, including Kurapati Kishore, dug up three acres out of his 7.10 acres of the farmland owned by him and his father Veerabhadraiah in Survey No. 276 and 277 using earthmovers. The farmer also mentioned the names of P Rama Rao, Gurram Nagamalleswara Rao, Mogili Srinu and Mogili Muthaiah in the video. Kurapati Kishore is Congress Chintakani mandal spokesperson. Prabhakar says in the video that he met the SI and tahsildar seeking help and when he wanted to meet the district collector in Prajavani programme on Monday, the officials informed that the time was over.

He then consumed pesticides after which he called his family and informed them.

SLOWER GST GROWTH, FEWER NEW PROJECTS ARE WARNING SIGNALS

RECENT data on the economy's performance seem to indicate India's growth story may be hitting the pause button. After an impressive show following the pandemic-period deceleration, a slowdown could now be on the cards. The GST collection for June 2024 was ₹1.74 lakh crore, a 7.7 percent increase from a year ago. This growth was slower than the 12.4 and 10 percent rise recorded in April and May, respectively. When seen in absolute terms with the previous months, with collections of ₹1.73 lakh crore in May and ₹2.1 lakh crore in April, the revenue line for the April-June quarter seems flat. GST collections, which indicate the volume of goods and services sold, is a good indicator of the economy's performance.

On a similar note, just-released data from the private Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy showed that the setting up of new projects such as factories and roads had fallen to ₹60,000 crore in the April-June quarter. This is as much as 92 percent lower than the ₹7.9 lakh crore logged for the same quarter a year ago, and is the lowest for new projects since 2009. Sale of passenger cars, another bell-weather indicator, has slowed. Car manufacturers sold 3.41 lakh units, an increase of just 12,000 units this June, compared to the same month last year. This was despite the discounts and freebies offered. For Tata Motors, sales actually fell 8 percent.

These could be short blips as industry is in a wait-and-watch mode before the budget. The first quarter of 2024-25 was a difficult period, with the searing heat increasing rural distress, which in turn took a toll on jobs and purchasing power. The poll-time model code slowed the government's infrastructure work. The Red Sea blockade increased freight rates, making capital imports expensive. So, seeing the marginal increase in GST and car sales as indicators of robust growth would be a misread. Among the major drags in recent years has been the abysmal growth in private investment. While the government has been pushing growth by pouring money into infrastructure projects, the private sector has not matched the effort. Part of the reason for its defensive stance is industry's fear of committing funds in an ambivalent environment. The budget can be a good starting point to reverse these trends and stoke growth through consumer spending and higher project investment.

KARNATAKA CONG NEEDS TO UNITE BEFORE BYPOLLS

WITH the Lok Sabha elections concluded, the Karnataka Congress has done away with all pretence of unity. Having managed to win just nine seats out of 28, the party unit was expected to introspect and come up with strategies for the upcoming byelections to three MLA seats and one MLC post. Instead, it appears to be split down the middle, with leaders and religious seers shadow-boxing on the leadership issue. While one faction is demanding that Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar be made chief minister, the other wants four or more deputy chief ministers. Second-rung leaders from both camps are spearheading the campaigns. Now, abbots have waded into the issue: Chandrashekhara Swami of Vishwa Vokkaliga Mahasamsthana Mutt appealed to CM Siddaramaiah to make way for Shivakumar, while Channasiddarama Panditaradhyha Shivacharya has sought that the top post be given to a minister from the Veerashaiva Lingayat community. The Ahinda (backwards and minorities) section has warned of severe consequences if Siddaramaiah is forced to step down as CM. Both Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar are known for good administration and enjoy broad support among the people.

The two leaders are trying to play things down and have appealed to MLAs to leave such issues to the high command. Siddaramaiah, whose supporters K N Rajanna, Zameer Ahmed Khan and Satish Jarkiholi raised the demand for more deputy CMs, said it is not a matter for public discussion; Shivakumar termed the rift a media creation and warned MLAs to shut up. All this politicking is giving the Congress a bad name. For a party that has just pulled itself out of political irrelevance in the parliamentary elections, Karnataka is a state where it can bank on strong leaders. It would seem the party has not learnt its lessons from Rajasthan and Punjab, where internecine squabbles cost them the assemblies. Karnataka's MLAs should heed Shivakumar's words that discipline is crucial, and the party needs to understand what went wrong in the Lok Sabha elections as it prepares for the Shiggaon, Sandur and Channanapattana bypolls. Religious leaders should function as guiding lights for their communities, and not dabble in power politics. As a party that hopes to take on the BJP, known for its discipline, respect for authority and work-oriented approach, the Congress should inculcate a sense of order among its leaders.

QUICK TAKE

SUSTAINABLE INDIA INC

A first-of-its-kind study by the World Benchmarking Alliance shows that 90 percent of the world's 2,000 most influential companies—that together earn the equivalent of 45 percent of the global GDP—do not meet expectations on the UN's sustainable development goals. The non-profit's goal is to nudge the corporate world towards aligning with the 17 SDGs that include gender parity and climate action. Of the 14 sectors surveyed, the funds and financial services sector scored the lowest; among regions, companies headquartered in the Asia Pacific scored the highest. With extreme climate changing economic calculations, it's time for India Inc to do a thorough review of corporate governance linked to sustainability.

"London Bridge is falling down, Falling down, falling down, London Bridge is falling down, My fair lady."

THE popular English nursery rhyme treats a bridge falling as a matter of little consequence and something almost amusing. But for the builders, bridge failure is a matter of very serious concern. Bridges being vital and busy transport links, their failure can result in a grievous loss of lives and money, and are blots on the civil engineering profession.

Unfortunately for us, the failure of bridges has become routine, with alarming repetition. They happen during construction, after construction, with traffic, and during different stages of its service life. Failure during construction is generally due to the use of poor material, poor workmanship, or inadequate supervision. Failure during service is due to poor upkeep, or rather, the absence of inspection and maintenance, and a failure to remedy observed defects in time.

Bridges, particularly long-span ones, are undoubtedly some of the man's greatest physical creations. Some of them have become icons for their cities—the Tower Bridge for London and Howrah Bridge for Kolkata. And yet, some 2,000 bridges are reported to have collapsed in our country between 1977 and 2017, and the rate of failures is only climbing.

The opening of a bridge is celebrated with a lot of fanfare in the presence of politicians and bureaucrats, only to be forgotten thereafter. The engineers responsible are only visible and called upon to explain failures and assign responsibility to some lower-level minions.

Bridge failures continue to happen across the world as well; some of them become case studies for the analysis of causes and learning for future builders. There are classical cases like the collapse of the Tacoma Narrows Bridge in western US, the live video of which spurred the study of aerodynamics for bridges across the world. The failure of the West Gate Bridge near Melbourne around 1970 caused by the collapse of a steel box girder caused the entire engineering community to wake up and come up with new rules for design. (Very few know that this accident almost derailed the ongoing Second Hooghly Bridge Project in Kolkata.) Failures are openly discussed and young engineers get the opportunity to learn from them, unlike in our country where failures are hushed up and the reports of inquiry committees never get publicised. The causes of failure therefore remain as an enigma to the public.

About 2,000 bridges are reported to have failed in India during 1977-2017. One essential remedy would be a systematic bridge health monitoring system with regular inspections

Bridges, being important and costly structures, are given considerable attention during their planning and design. The design usually is carried out by a set of planners and designers—in-house, or from an organisation of consultants—and then carefully checked by another set of professionals. In the case of many important ones, they are also proof-checked by academics from nationally-recognised bodies like the Indian Institutes of Technology or National Institutes of Technology. Bridge failures due to faulty design are somewhat rare. It is the completed structure, with its service loads, that is given all the attention.

During construction, when the bridge structure is in various stages of formation and is therefore unstable, it is vulnerable to failure. Rarely are all these stages analysed by competent designers. This aspect is often left to the construction team with limited design capability. Since construction continues over long periods, and often gets delayed due to various reasons, attention on the work slackens, leading to failures. The original designers, who are the ones aware of the full analysis, are seldom kept linked to the project during its construction progress.

The other major deficiency in our system is the very limited (or no) attention paid to the structure during its long service lifespan. There is seldom a maintenance plan with a defined inspection schedule, prepared and handed over to the ment will have to be in respect to both the present and future. This implies it is unethical to see and use other individuals, from present and future generations, as tools to achieve your own objectives.

The Supreme Court in M K Ranjitsinh, while noting that "without a clean environment which is stable and unimpacted by the vagaries of climate change, the right to life is not fully realised", has held that there is an inherent right to be free from the adverse

With escalating threats to human life and health, climate change poses profound moral and legal issues. Recent judgements from the Supreme Court of India and the European Court of Human Rights have affirmed the right to be free from the adverse effects of climate change effects of climate change within the broad contours of Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution and courts must also be alive to other rights of affected communities such as the right against displacement.

As the havoc caused by climate change increases year by year, the court noted it became necessary to articulate this as a distinct right. In this case, the court encountered a peculiar dilemma. The matter involved the protection of a highly endangered avian species, known as the Great Indian Bustard, listed as critically endangered by the International Union for Conservation of Nature. This bird is exclusively found in Rajasthan and Gujarat, which also have significant potential for solar and wind energy generation.

In its earlier order in 2021, the SC, in response to the decreasing population of the species, issued a comprehensive limitation on overhead transmission lines within a radius of 99,000 square kilometres. Several solar and wind energy businesses submitted applications stating this prohibition might result in the incapacitation of energy generation facilities in key regions of the states, thus impeding India's attainment of its net zero objective.

The SC decided to relax the restrictions, demonstrating a deliberate effort to find a middle ground between two equally important environmental goals. It established an expert group to evaluate the practicality of placing electricity lines underground in certain regions. The group was instructed to consider both the need of preserving the Great Indian Bustard and the necessity of promoting sustainable development. In other words, the court determined that the categorical imperatives of right to life of Indian citizens and ensuring the conservation of endangered animals would have to be achieved by balancing the two imperatives and adopting a holistic approach.

In a similar vein, the ECHR in Verein Klima Seniorinnen Schweiz recognised that elderly and other vulnerable groups have a right to be protected from the threats posed by global warming, and governments have a legal obligation to take aggressive action to mitigate climate change. It affirmed that governments have a duty to protect their people from the existential dangers of global warming. The court's ruling makes clear that climate change is not just an environmental problem, but a direct threat to the fundamental rights of all people.

The practical implications of these judgements are profound. They empower citizens to hold their governments accountable for failing to meet their climate commitments and take adequate steps to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. Pertinently going forward, any policies or actions that exacerbate climate change can be challenged in court as infringing on the fundamental right to a livable environment.

Troubling implementation

Ref: The promise of new criminal laws under test (Jul 2). The recent operationalisation of the new criminal laws has ushered in a wave of uncertainty. The rapid use of these laws without sufficient preparation within our policing and judicial systems is troubling. The lack of adequate preparation and swift replacement of familiar legal terms could confuse the public and erode trust in our legal system. Prasanth Sahoo, Visakhapatnam

Hasty decision

The introduction of the new criminal laws seems hasty and misplaced. The government ought to have reinforced the existing criminal system before embarking on supplanting them. Furthermore, the naming of the laws in Hindi and Sanskrit with no English counterpart makes their interpretation difficult for the non-Hindi states. Aanya Singhal, Noida

Legal era

The new set of criminal laws are ushering in a new era in criminal justice. The new system is boasted as victim-centric and focused more on delivering justice, unlike that of the erstwhile British ones. But some laws seem to have draconian sections that may turn nightmarish. DVG Sankara Rao, Vizianagaram

Needless interruptions

Ref: Rahul's fiery debut speech (Jul 2). Rahul Gandhi's maiden speech in the Lok Sabha was described as being fiery and stormy. To an extent, I concur. But it was the most unintelligent approach on the part of the ruling party to allow senior ministers including the PM to interrupt Rahul's talk. Perhaps it was these high-profile interruptions that gifted stardom to the Congress leader. PRV Raja, Pandalam

Floor facts

Apart from the usual diatribe against the PM and the BJP, Rahul Gandhi was caught in two blatant lies. The Speaker clarified that there was no provision to mute the mic, so Rahul's mic couldn't have been muted while he was speaking. Defence minister Rajnath Singh also clarified that the family of the Agniveer who died was paid ₹1 crore, contrary to Rahul's allegations that no compensation was given. Hemant D Pail, Bengaluru

Tourist safety

The death of five members of a family swept away by gushing water in a Lonavala tourist spot shows the lack of safety precautions in such vulnerable spots. It is high time concerned authorities take urgent steps to make such tourist locations safe. Mohan Daniel, Thiruvananthapuram

■ Cong chief's 'Varna' remark comes after RS Chairman's advice to Ramesh to take over as LoP ■ Cong leader writes to Speaker on deletion of his speech

Dhankhar jibe at Jairam evokes Kharge's retort

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

A war of words between Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar and Leader of Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge further intensified on Tuesday when Dhankhar sarcastically suggested that Congress MP Jairam Ramesh should take Kharge's place in the House to discipline the Congress MPs.

Kharge retorted by saying the chairman was trying to bring in the "Varna" (caste) system. The acrimony started during a discussion on the motion of thanks to the President's address when Dhankhar asked Pramod Tiwari of the Congress not to state unverified facts.

To this, Ramesh said it would be authenticated. The Chairman advised Ramesh not to interrupt when any member speaks in the House. Annoyed by Ramesh's disregard for the chair's suggestion, Dhankhar said, "The senior leadership (Kharge) is here. I think you (Ramesh) should replace (Kharge)... You are so intelligent, so gifted, you should immediately come and take the seat."

Kharge retorted by saying "do not bring in the Varna system...that is why you are calling Ramesh very intelligent ... and I am dull." He defended his position by attributing his political stature to Congress leader Sonia Gandhi and the electorate, emphasising his achievements in public service. "The people who have elevated me to this position are sitting here," Kharge said, glancing towards Sonia Gandhi.

After hearing this, an agitated Dhankhar accused

Kharge of "twisting" his remark and said he never meant it. "Never in the history of parliamentary democracy and Rajya Sabha proceedings there has been such a disregard of the chair," he said.

The exchange comes a day after Kharge and Dhankhar got embroiled in a heated exchange after the Congress president accused "the RSS of infiltrating educational institutions by appointing their members as vice chancellors and professors."

Despite the acrimony, Tiwari later continued his speech on the motion of thanks to the President's address to a joint sitting of Parliament. He accused the Narendra Modi government of betraying the people during its 10-year rule.

Ashokrao Shankarrao Chavan of the BJP, participating in the discussion, accused the Congress of spreading misinformation during the Lok Sabha elections about changes to the Constitution if the BJP could come to power with 400 seats.

Oath-taking procedure recast after Owaisi's 'Jai Palestine' remark in LS

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

A significant amendment has been introduced in the Lok Sabha about the oath-taking procedure for the elected members. This comes against the backdrop of a recent controversy sparked by AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi adding 'Jai Palestine' after taking his oath. Apart from Owaisi, some other MPs too inserted slogans such as 'Jai Samvidhan' during their oaths, leading to debates over parliamentary decorum and adherence to the constitutional norms.

The Lok Sabha, under the authority of Rule 389 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business, has now enforced stricter guidelines. According to the revised direction issued by the Speaker, members must strictly adhere to the form of oath or affirmation as prescribed in the Third

'Silence on Manipur'

LS MP A Bimol Ahoijam expressed his anguish over the absence of any reference to ethnic violence-hit Manipur in President's address to the joint sitting of both Houses of Parliament. He drew attention to the 60,000 people living in deplorable conditions in relief camps in the state for a year.

Schedule to the Constitution.

The amended direction says: "A member shall make and subscribe oath or affirmation, as the case may be, in accordance with the form set out for the purpose, in the Third Schedule to the Constitution and shall not use any word or expression or make any remark to the form of oath or affirmation." They are explicitly barred from adding any words, expressions, prefixes, or suffixes to the prescribed oath or affirmation.

This amendment marks a departure from previous practices where some members personalized their oaths with additional statements or slogans. Asaduddin Owaisi, responding to the controversy, defended his inclusion of 'Jai Palestine' by questioning its legality under constitutional provisions and emphasizing his right to express views.

However, the Lok Sabha's new directive aims to standardise and uphold the sanctity of the oath-taking process, ensuring that all members adhere strictly to the constitutional format without deviations.

Why parts of my speech expunged, Rahul asks Birla

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

A day after several parts of his speech in Lok Sabha were expunged from records, Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi shot off a letter to Speaker Om Birla on Tuesday, saying that it goes against tenets of parliamentary democracy.

On Monday, Gandhi launched a blistering attack on the BJP and RSS dividing people on communal lines, which evoked a strong response from Prime Minister Modi and other Union ministers for calling the entire Hindu community violent.

In his letter, Gandhi expressed shock over how a considerable portion of his speech had been taken off from the proceedings under the garb of expunction. "I am writing this in the context of remarks and portions expunged from my speech during the discussion on motion of thanks on the President's Address," he wrote.

While the Chair has the power to expunge certain remarks from the proceedings of the House, the Congress leader said, "The stipulation is only those kind of words the nature of which have been specified in Rule 380 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha."

The deleted parts of Gandhi's speech include his comments about BJP and RSS and the alleged paper leaks and irregularities in NEET and Agniveer scheme.

"I am enclosing relevant portions of uncorrected debates of Lok Sabha dated 2

Won't trust EVMs even if I win all seats: Akhilesh

SP chief Akhilesh Yadav lashed out at the Modi government by calling it a "defeated government". Participating in a debate on the motion of thanks to the president's address, Yadav said that his party's victory in Ayodhya was the victory of the wisdom of voters in Uttar Pradesh. He reiterated his party's position on EVMs. "I did not trust EVMs yesterday, I don't trust them today. Even if I win all 80 seats in UP, I still will not trust EVMs. This will always be an issue," he said. The SP chief asserted that caste census is the need of the hour.

July. I am constrained to state that the portions expunged do not come under the ambit of Rule 380. What I sought to convey in the House is ground reality, the factual position," he wrote. "Every member of the House who personifies the collective voice of people whom he or she represents has the freedom of speech as enshrined in Article 105(1) of the Constitution of India," he said.

"Taking off from records my considered remarks go against the very tenets of parliamentary democracy."

Flagging BJP MP Anurag Thakur's speech, Gandhi said, "Anurag Thakur's speech was full of allegations. However, only one word has been expunged! With due respect to your good self, this selective expunction defies logic. I request that the remarks expunged from the proceedings be restored."

NEET-PG likely in Aug; cyber wing holds meet

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

IN view of the announcement of fresh dates to conduct the postponed National Eligibility cum Entrance Test, Postgraduate (NEET-PG), which is likely to take place in August, a high-level meeting of senior officials of Indian Cyber Crime Coordination Centre (I4C) wing of the Union Ministry of Home Affairs and the ministries of Information Technology and Health was held to find ways to plug any possibility of paper leak, sources said on Tuesday.

According to the sources, deliberations mostly revolved around finding ways to ensure a fool-proof system in which there is a near impossible human interface and question papers are downloaded just two hours before the start of examination.

The meeting was attended by officials from the health minis-

SC TO HEAR BATCH OF PLEAS ON NEET-UG ROW

The Supreme Court is scheduled to hear on July 8 a batch of pleas related to the controversy-ridden NEET-UG, including those alleging irregularities in the examination held on May 5 and seeking a direction that it be held afresh. According to the cause list for July 8 uploaded on the SC's website, the batch of 26 petitions would come up for hearing before a bench comprising CJI D Y Chandrachud and Justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra.

try, National Board of Examinations in Medical Sciences (NBEMS), along with its technical partner Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) and the Cyber Cell.

Besides the NEET-PG, the deliberations also took place to evaluate the robustness of the system for the conduct of the Foreign Medical Graduates Examination, which is scheduled for July 6, they added.

The meeting assumed significance, as the NEET-PG

exam is likely to be held mid-August, the sources said, adding that the revised schedule is expected to be announced this week.

They said that the MHA and the ministries of Information Technology and Health are keeping a close watch on the entire matter involving paper leaks on a larger scale, as the CBI investigations are progressing in the right direction.

The NEET-PG examination was postponed and a fresh date would be announced at the earliest, the Health Ministry had announced on June 22. The exam was scheduled to be held on June 23.

"Taking into consideration the recent incidents of allegations regarding the integrity of certain competitive examinations, the ministry of health has decided to undertake a thorough assessment of the robustness of processes of the NEET-PG Entrance Examination, conducted by the National Board of Examination (NTA) for medical students," the Ministry had then said in a statement.

"Ministry of Health sincerely regrets the inconvenience caused to the students. This decision has been taken in the best interests of the students and to maintain the sanctity of the examination process," it had said.

Behavioural support among other steps in WHO guideline on tobacco cessation

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

IN a move to help more than 750 million people quit all forms of tobacco, the World Health Organisation (WHO) on Tuesday recommended a comprehensive set of tobacco cessation interventions, including behavioural support by healthcare providers, digital cessation interventions and pharmacological treatments.

In its first guideline on tobacco cessation, the WHO said the recommendations are relevant for all adults seeking to quit various tobacco products, including cigarettes, water pipes, smokeless tobacco products, cigars, roll-your-own tobacco, and heated tobacco products.

"This guideline marks a crucial milestone in our global battle against these dangerous products. It empowers countries with the essential tools to effectively support people in quitting tobacco and alleviate the global burden of tobacco-related diseases," said Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, WHO Director-General.

Over 60% of the world's 1.25 billion tobacco users – more than 750 million people – wish to quit, yet 70% lack access to effective cessation services. This gap exists due to challenges faced by health systems, including resource limitations.

"The struggle that people face when trying to quit smoking cannot be overstated. We need to appreciate the strength it takes and the suffering endured by individuals and their loved ones to overcome this addiction," said Dr Rüdiger Krech, Director of Health Promotion at WHO.

Combining pharmacotherapy with behavioural interventions increases quitting success rates. WHO recommends varenicline, Nicotine Replacement Therapy, bupropion, and cytisine as effective treatments for tobacco cessation. Tobacco kills more than 8 million people each year, including an estimated 1.3 million non-smokers who are exposed to second-hand smoke, it said.

Delhi court grants Er Rashid 2-hour custody parole to take oath as MP

SHEKHAR SINGH @ New Delhi

A city court on Tuesday granted two-hour custody parole to jailed Kashmiri leader Sheikh Abdul Rashid, alias Engineer Rashid, to take oath as Lok Sabha MP on July 5.

Additional Sessions Judge (ASJ) Chander Jit Singh passed the order following the National Investigation Agency's (NIA) consent to the arrangement.

Engineer Rashid, currently under trial, will be escorted to Parliament on July 5 to fulfill his constitutional duty of taking the oath of office.

Rashid won Jammu and Kashmir's Baramulla Lok Sabha seat by defeating his nearest rival National Conference leader Omar Abdullah. But he was unable to take oath during the official ceremony in Parliament due to his incarceration. The agency said it has been consulting Parliament and jail authorities on the matter. Er Rashid won the general elections jailed in Tihar in the terror-funding case investigated by the NIA. He had sought interim bail or custody parole for taking oath as Lok Sabha MP.

Indian law does not explicitly prohibit undertrials from contesting elections. Section 62(5) of the Representation of People Act disallows lawfully imprisoned persons from voting if they are confined in a prison or in lawful police custody.

However, a 2013 amendment to the Act ensures that individuals remain eligible to contest elections as long as their names are on the electoral rolls, regardless of their incarceration status.

Furthermore, Section 8(3) of the RPA disqualifies individuals convicted of offences and sentenced to at least two years of imprisonment from contesting elections for six years post-release. However, this disqualification does not extend to undertrials, who have not been convicted.

To recalibrate and transform its combat training towards a specialised cadre, the Indian Air Force has established the Weapon Systems School (WSS) at its Begumpet station in Hyderabad.

"The WSS will impart effect-based contemporary training and prepare officers of the newly formed branch in line with the its requirements," said the IAF.

With the inauguration of the WSS, Flight Cadets of Weapon System (WS) Branch will undergo its second semester of training at the institute.

IAF Chief VR Chaudhari inaugurated the School on Monday. He said with the creation of WS Branch, operators of ground-based and specialist weapon systems will come under one umbrella, enhancing war-fighting capabilities of the IAF significantly.

The Air Chief exhorted the instructors that being pioneers in a newly formed branch, they were the pillars on which the entire edifice of the envisioned training regime would stand firmly and deliver decisive air power. While complimenting the founding members of the school, the CAS urged all personnel to establish the school as a nodal centre for weapon systems training in the country.

The new branch will have four streams: flying stream to operate the weapons and systems in twin and multi-crew aircraft like the Sukhoi-30 MKI and C-130J; remote stream to operate remotely piloted aircraft; mission commanders and operators for surface-to-air and surface-to-surface weapon systems, and intelligence stream for handling space-based intelligence and imagery.

The IAF branches include flying (pilot), aeronautical engineering (electronics and mechanical), education, administration, logistics, accounts and meteorology branches.

Air Vice Marshal Premkumar Krishnaswamy is the first commandant of the Weapon Systems School. Keeping the significance of the new establishment, the inauguration ceremony was also attended by Air Marshal Nagesh Kapoor, Air Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Training Command, and other senior officers of the IAF including Commandant, Air Force Academy, Commandant, College of Air Warfare.

The creation of the WS branch was announced by the CAS during the Air Force Day Parade celebrations on October 8, 2022. The first batch of 33 WS officer cadets joined the (IAF) academy, Dundigal for common training with the ground duty and flying branch trainee cadets for 6 months. They have now joined the WSS for branch training; will get commissioned in December this year as weapon system branch officers.

Nature's Fury ■ NDRF personnel deployed in affected districts ■ 30 villages in Junagadh isolated as roads waterlogged

Assam seeks IAF help to rescue affected, toll 38

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

AS the flood situation in Assam continues to remain grim with the toll mounting to 38, the state government is taking the help of the Indian Air Force (IAF) to rescue the affected people.

The IAF rescued 13 fishermen from a sandbar of the Brahmaputra by using a helicopter on Tuesday. In another IAF operation, eight State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) personnel and a state government official were rescued from a sandbar in Dhemaji district.

According to the Assam State Disaster Management Authority (ASDMA), personnel of the National Disaster Response Force were deployed in Cachar, Barpeta, Bongaigaon, Dibrugarh, Jorhat, Golaghat, Majuli and Lakhimpur districts. Altogether 614 SDRF personnel, including 159 deep divers, were deployed in 54 locations across the state.

Meanwhile, with three more deaths, the toll rose to 38. The deaths were reported from Dhemaji (one) and Tinsukia (two). The ASDMA said 11,34,446 people in 2,208 villages of 28 of the state's 35 districts have been affected. The authorities set up 489 relief camps where 18, 459 of the marooned were taking shelter. Twelve major rivers — Brahmaputra, Subansiri, Burhi Dihing, Dikhou, Disang, Dhansiri, Jia-Bharali, Kopili, Puthimari, Beki, Kushiya and Barak — were in a spate, flowing above the danger level at several places.

The deluge damaged roads and bridges and breached river embankments at some places. It inundated the river island Majuli and the Kaziranga National Park. Altogether 176 of the park's 233 camps were in the grip of the floods. Park authorities said four hog deer drowned while 24 other animals were rescued. Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma on Tuesday visited some affected areas of Bokakhat in Golaghat district and took stock of the situation. He also visited a relief camp. He said "Team Assam" was working round the clock to ensure timely relief and rehabilitation of people.

Rain continues to batter Gujarat, cities submerged

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

INCESSANT rain continued to pound Gujarat for the second straight day on Tuesday leading to waterlogging, traffic congestion, and closure of several roads. In Valsad, two major underpasses were shut due to flooding, while around 30 villages and highways in Junagadh were cut off as the roads leading to them got submerged in rainwater. Vanthali in the district recorded 361 mm rains in the 24-hour period ending Tuesday morning.

According to JP Zala, Deputy Collector of Junagadh, alerts have been issued and flooded roads closed. "Three state highways in Junagadh are currently shut, along with six major district connect-inroads. We have issued alerts for low-lying areas and closed roads affected by waterlogging."

"Around 30 villages in Junagadh district were isolated as roads were submerged after the heavy rains," a senior official stated. The affected talukas in Junagadh district include Keshod, Manavadar, and Vanthali, another added. Officials reported that Valsad City in South Gujarat experienced 87.63 mm rainfall within two hours in the morning. As per reports, ten talukas in the Saurashtra and southern regions of the state experienced over 200 mm of rainfall within 24 hours. The National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) has dispatched a team to Keshod in Junagadh district to assist people stranded due to road disconnections.

According to the State Emergency Operations Centre (SEOC), Vanthali taluka in Junagadh received 361 mm of rain in the same period ending at 6 am. This was followed by Visavadar taluka with 336 mm, Junagadh taluka and Junagadh city both with 297 mm, and Keshod taluka with 248 mm of rainfall in 24 hours.

Other areas experiencing heavy rainfall include Bardoli taluka of Surat (239 mm), Khambhaliya taluka of Devbhumi Dwarka (229 mm), Manavadar of Junagadh (224 mm) and Navsari taluka of Navsari district (214 mm).

Monsoon covers India six days before schedule

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE Southwest Monsoon on Tuesday covered the entire country six days early of schedule, taking the remaining parts of Rajasthan, Haryana and Punjab in its sweep. This is the third consecutive year that the monsoon covered the entire nation on July 2 instead of the normal date of July 8.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) reiterated its prediction that the country will receive above normal rainfall i.e. over 106% of long period average (LPA) between June-September. It is expected to boost sowing of Kharif crops and ease food inflation. The onset of the monsoon was early, too. It arrived in Kerala on May 30, two days ahead of schedule. However, its journey so far has been haphazard. The country received 11% deficient rainfall in June, which was seventh lowest in the last 24 years.

TMC MP calls BJP slogan a game of hopscotch

A video of TMC MP Kalyan Banerjee mocking the BJP's poll slogan 'abki baar 400 paar' in the Lok Sabha went viral on Tuesday. "They played the game with 'abki Paar 400 paar.' There are many games, and chu-kit-kit is one of them," said Kalyan Banerjee. Referring to the game, the MP from Serampur constituency explained that the slogan '400' resonated loudly with 'chu' and ended with 'kit-kit'. "You only won 240 seats and still lost that game," he remarked. Chu-kit-kit is a popular game in Bengal, often considered a modified version of hopscotch. The MP's description caused laughter from his party MPs.

CPM member in London as party struggles

After the election results were declared CPM candidate from South Kolkata, Saira Shah Halim went for a vacation in London. She candidly posted various pictures of her vacation trip in her facebook profile. TMC insiders claim that while CPM is busy calculating where they have gone wrong, CPM leaders are busy enjoying their vacation time. The MP, during the elections, was confident of facing challenges plaguing the area. She had mentioned several issues needed to be addressed such as mushrooming illegal construction, various vector-borne diseases and unemployment.

Raj Bhavan didn't sign mob lynching bill: Speaker

West Bengal Assembly Speaker Biman Banerjee criticised the Raj Bhavan on Tuesday for not signing a bill passed by the House in 2019, which was aimed at preventing mob lynching and punishing those involved in the crime. His comments came after four recent deaths due to mob lynching in the state. The assembly passed the West Bengal (Prevention of Lynching) Bill in August 2019 with support from both the Left and Congress legislators. The BJP, with only three MLAs at that time, neither supported nor opposed the bill.

5 special children die of food poisoning at Indore orphanage

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

FIVE orphan and specially-abled boys have reportedly died at an orphanage in Madhya Pradesh's most populated city Indore since Sunday.

While one of the boys died on Sunday following epileptic fits, four other boys died on Monday and Tuesday following suspected food poisoning.

The five boys who died at the Yugpurush Dham Ashram orphanage (housing 200-plus orphan or abandoned specially-abled children aged between three years and 18 years) have been identified as Shubham alias Karan, Akash, Shubh, Divya and Govind, who are aged between 5 and 15 years, youngest of them being 5-years-old Govind.

At least 30 other boys from the same orphanage (who are aged between 5 and 18 years) have been hospitalised with symptoms similar to four of the five deceased boys. Out of the 30 boys admitted at the Chacha Nehru Government Children Hospital after vomiting, dehydration, diarrhea symptoms, 4-5 are stated critical. "Samples of food prepared at the concerned orphanage's kitchen have been collected by our teams and sent for analysis to the government and as private labs. A probe panel headed by the additional district magistrate has been constituted to investigate the entire incident and all related aspects," Indore district collector Ashish Singh said.

According to Singh, while five deaths have happened since Sunday, the boy who died on Sunday (June 30) reported epileptic fits. But the four others who died on Monday and Tuesday reported symptoms of suspected food poisoning. "We've sent medical teams to the concerned orphanage to conduct a detailed examination of all children there (including girls). Though the medical teams are finding it difficult to communicate properly with the children, still whoever is showing any symptom of suspected food poisoning or any other medical problem is being admitted at the hospital. Presently, 30 children are under treatment at the hospital."

The Yugpurush Dham Ashram has been run reportedly since 2006 in Indore's Malharganj area and currently has more than 200 children and teenagers aged between 3 and 18 years, including girls. These children who are either orphans or have been abandoned by families, are all specially-abled (mostly mentally challenged) and come from all parts of MP.

PM had stopped Ukraine war for 2 hours: Shinde

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA chief minister Eknath Shinde on Tuesday said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi had stopped the war between Russia and Ukraine for two hours to rescue Indian students from Ukraine.

"No prime minister in the history of India was able to stop the war, but PM Modi did stop the war between Russia and Ukraine for two hours to ensure rescue and safety of Indian students," Shinde said in the assembly.

"When Russia attacked Ukraine, many Indian students were stuck there. At that time the parents here earnestly requested PM Modi to get their children out safely. After that, Modi successfully stopped the war for two hours to rescue the Indian students stuck in Ukraine," he claimed.

Shinde also said his government will bring Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj's 'tiger claw' weapon from London before the assembly elections. Shivaji had used the weapon to defeat Bijapur sultanate's general Afzal Khan in 1659. Taking a dig at the Congress, he said, "The Congress talks about eradication of poverty. But did they do it? PM Modi has lifted 25 crore people out of poverty."

Maha OBC outreach as Pankaja Munde BJP nominee in council poll

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AFTER the Lok Sabha debacle in Maharashtra, the BJP has decided to "reframe" its original Other Backward Class (OBC) vote bank by giving it the maximum representation in the state legislative council's biennial election due on July 12.

Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnis has made it clear that the party will never do anything to hurt its OBC vote bank. To counter the consolidation of prominent Maratha caste, the RSS too has assiduously applied some 'social engineering' and developed 'Ma-dha-v formula' — putting together the Mali, Dhanger and Vanjari castes in the OBC bloc. However, in the last few years, most of these castes drifted from the BJP, eroding its influence in the parliamentary polls. That explains why the party wants to refurbish the vote bank ahead of the state assembly polls due later this year.

The party announced five candidates for the biennial polls for the state council. One of the candidates is Pankaja Munde who comes from the Wanjari community, a part of the OBCs. Munde lost the Lok Sabha election against NCP (SP) candidate Bajran Sonawane in a high-voltage contest.

Munde had also lost the 2019 state assembly election against her cousin Dhananjay Munde, who is now an NCP minister in the BJP-led Mahayuti government. Despite her second defeat, she was given the MLC candidature as she wields influence for being the daughter of late BJP leader Gopinath Munde and due to the community she belongs to.

The party also nominated Pairnay Phuke, who comes from Vidarbha and belongs to Kunbis, an agrarian community. Phuke is a close aide of deputy CM Devendra Fadnis. By nominating him for the biennial council polls, BJP wants to pacify his community that wields influence in Vidarbha.

Guv sues Mamata over 'slandering comments'

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @ Kolkata

WEST Bengal Governor CV Ananda Bose, on Tuesday confirmed that he has filed a defamation suit against West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee at Calcutta High Court, allegedly for some slanderous comments made by her against him.

"Anyone who will hurt my self-respect, he or she will have to face the consequences. She is my constitutional colleague. I give her respect for that. But since my self-respect has been questioned I have filed a defamation case," Governor Bose said at Siliguri on Tuesday afternoon before leaving for New Delhi. The matter is expected to come up for hearing at the Bench of Justice Krishna Rao on Wednesday.

Earlier on June 28, the office of the Governor issued a strongly-worded statement reacting to some comments made by the Chief Minister about women being scared to go to Raj Bhavan.

On June 27, the Chief Minister made this comment while expressing her displeasure over the confusion regarding the oath-taking ceremony of two newly-elected party MLAs namely Sayantika Banerjee and Reyat Sarkar.

She had backed their decision of not accepting the Governor's invitation to go to Raj Bhavan and attend the oath ceremony there. "They are right. Either the Governor should nominate the Speaker or the Deputy Speaker for administering the oath or he should himself go to the Assembly. Why will the two newly-elected MLAs go to the Raj Bhavan? As it is, after what has happened at Raj Bhavan, women are scared to go there," the CM had said.

WE PLANNED PRECISE ORBIT MANOEUVRES, SAYS ISRO

THROUGH a graph, ISRO also showed if the critical manoeuvre hadn't worked, what divergent path Aditya-L1 would have been on.

"It underwent two station-keeping manoeuvres on February 22 and June 7, respectively, to maintain this orbit. Today's 3rd station-keeping manoeuvre has ensured that its travel continued into the revolution around the L1 point second halo orbit path around L1," said ISRO in a statement.

During its travel in the halo orbit, the Aditya-L1 spacecraft was subjected to various strong and unsettling forces that caused it to depart from the targeted orbit.

Scientists explained that the journey of Aditya L1 around the Sun-Earth L1 Lagrangian point involves modelling complex dynamics.

Understanding of various perturbing forces acting on the spacecraft helped in determining the trajectory accurately and planning precise orbit manoeuvres

"Understanding of various perturbing forces acting on the spacecraft helped in determining the trajectory accurately and planning precise orbit manoeuvres," said the space agency.

Aditya-L1 carries seven payloads to observe the photosphere, chromosphere and corona of the Sun using electromagnetic and particle detectors.

The mission aims to provide crucial insights into solar physics and space weather and moreover make sure that the billion-dollar Indian satellites are protected from solar storms. This will benefit scientific research and allow applications for various industries.

The L1 Point will provide a unique view for the spacecraft which will allow for continuous, unobstructed observations of the Sun for the next five years.

INDIA'S SUN-OBSERVING ADITYA-L1 COMPLETES FIRST 'HALO' ORBIT AROUND L1

On Tuesday, India's Aditya-L1 solar observation spacecraft took 178 days to complete its first revolution around the L1 point

- Orbit around L1 is perpendicular to the Earth-Sun axis
- Lagrange Point-1 (L1) is between the Sun and Earth where the gravitational forces of both balance each other out through attraction and repulsion. It is 1.5 million km from Earth
- To maintain this orbit around L1, it needed three thruster firings. With the third firing on Tuesday, Aditya-L1 has begun its second revolution around L1

Rahul House barbs trigger protest in Guj

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

MEMBERS of the VHP and Bajrang Dal targeted the Congress office in Ahmedabad late on Monday night, spraying black ink on Rahul Gandhi's posters and photos in response to his remarks in the Lok Sabha.

In his maiden speech as the Leader of the Opposition, Rahul, referring to the BJP and RSS, said that those who call themselves Hindus are engaged in "violence and hate".

On Tuesday, workers of the BJP and Congress hurled stones at each other outside the Congress headquarters, Rajiv Gandhi Bhavan. "Several workers and leaders from both sides were detained after the violent clash and stone pelting," a police control room official said.

While the BJP accused Congress workers of attacking a "peaceful protest," opposition leaders blamed BJP cadres for initiating the violence. Local TV channel visuals showed party workers from both sides thrashing each other outside Rajiv Gandhi Bhavan. Some individuals were seen throwing stones at each other, even as police attempted to intervene. Following the violent clash, police entered the Congress headquarters and detained several party workers, officials said.

Calling the attack as "cowardly", Congress leader Amit Chavda said, "Last night, people from the ruling BJP and VHP attacked the Gujarat Congress office. A true Hindu never intimidates anyone; attacking in the middle of the night is cowardly. The watchman of the building was present, and his pregnant daughter was assaulted by these people."

Hindenburg's 'nasty' reply to Sebi

Says regulator pushed brokers to close short positions in Adani stocks, failed to name Kotak

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIA'S capital market regulator Sebi pressured brokers behind the scenes to close short positions in Adani stocks under the threat of expensive and perpetual investigations, said US-based short seller Hindenburg Research on Tuesday.

Hindenburg questioned the Indian capital market regulator for failing to name Kotak Bank and its boss, the billionaire banker Uday Kotak, in its observations as the financial firm created and oversaw an offshore fund, used by an investor, to profit from a crash in Adani stocks. The US-based short-seller said this in a response to a show cause notice by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi), which is investigating the allegations made by it against the Gautam Adani-promoted Adani Group.

The Sebi show cause notice alleges that one K-India Opportunities fund opened a trading account and started trading in Adani Enterprises Ltd scrips a few days before the Hindenburg report was made public. According to the show cause notice, K-India Opportunities Fund made $22.25 million by trading in AEL shares. Sebi alleges that US-based investors Mark E Kingdon and his family members are the ultimate beneficial owners of the fund.

Responding to these finding,

Hindenburg said Sebi simply named K-India Opportunities fund and masked "Kotak" name with the acronym KMIL (Kotak Mahindra International Ltd).

"We suspect Sebi's lack of mention of Kotak or any other Kotak board member may be meant to protect yet another powerful Indian businessman from the prospect of scrutiny, a role Sebi seems to embrace," said Hindenburg in its response.

In a clarification, KMIL said Hindenburg has never been a client of the firm, "KMIL and KIOF unequivocally state that Hindenburg has never been a client of the firm nor has it ever been an investor in the Fund. The Fund was never aware that Hindenburg was a partner of any of its investors."

The Adani Group and the Sebi didn't issue any statement on Hindenburg's latest update. Hindenburg termed the show cause notice it received from Sebi as "nonsense" and "concocted to serve a pre-ordained purpose: an attempt to silence and intimidate those who expose corruption and fraud perpetrated by the most powerful individuals in India."

It made $4.1 million in gross revenue through "gains related to Adani shorts from that investor relationship" and just $31,000 through its short position of the conglomerate's US bonds. It, however, did not name the investor.

Developers continue to sign high-profile land deals in B'luru

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

BIG property developers continue to sign high-profile land deals in Bengaluru. A day after Mumbai-based Godrej Properties acquired a 7-acre land in Bengaluru to develop a luxury housing project with an estimated revenue of ₹1,200 crore, Puravankara Limited on Tuesday said it has bagged a 7.26-acre land parcel in Hebbagodi, Bengaluru.

Puravankara said the saleable area of the project will be about 750,000 sq ft, with a potential gross development value (GDV) of 900+ crore. The company recently announced the acquisition of a 12.75 acre land parcel in Thane's Ghodbunder Road and Lokhandwala in Mumbai, with a potential GDV of ₹5,500 crore over the project lifecycle.

"With the acquisition of landowner share of 820,661 sq ft in Provident Adora De Goa, Provident Botanico and Provident Capella, along with the 7.26 acres of land in Hebbagodi, the group has added a potential total GDV of ₹1,550 crore in addition to the recent acquisitions in Mumbai," said Ashish Puravankara, MD of Puravankara Limited.

Godrej Properties on Monday had announced the acquisition of 7 acres of land in Thanisandra, North Bengaluru on an outright basis. Gaurav Pandey, MD & CEO, Godrej Properties, said, "Availability of land parcels and infrastructure development has turned Bengaluru into a mature real estate market with increased demand for residential development... This will strengthen our presence in Bengaluru and complement our strategy of deepening our presence in key micro markets across India's leading cities".

In recent times, realtors have announced big-ticket land acquisitions in Bengaluru as housing demand continues to remain at an elevated level with property prices seeing substantial appraisal.

Concorde had last week said it had acquired a 1.6 acre land parcel located on Sarjapur Road which has a GDV of ₹200 crore. In March, Concorde acquired a 4.5 acre land in Thanisandra. In May, The Brigade Group had signed an agreement to buy a 4.6 acre land parcel in Bengaluru with a developmental potential of 0.69 million sq ft and a GDV of ₹660 crore.

BYJU'S CASE

HC sets aside NCLT order on rights issue, sends the matter back to tribunal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday set aside the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) order that had restrained Byju's from launching a second rights issue.

Think and Learn Pvt Limited (Byju's) and Byju Raveendran had filed writ petitions against the order of NCLT dated 12 June 2024. The High Court has remanded the matter to the NCLT for fresh consideration within 2 weeks from 4 July 2024.

The high court also declined the request of the investors' counsel to suspend the present order by the high court which sets NCLT's order. On June 12, the NCLT Bengaluru told the edtech firm to maintain the status quo with regard to existing shareholders and their shareholding shall be maintained till the disposal of the main petition.

Earlier, four investors including Peak XV Partners and General Atlantic Singapore accused the parent company of Byju's, Think & Learn for oppression and mismanagement. In April, Byju's said 55% of its shareholders have approved the vote for an increase in authorized share capital put forth in the form of a postal ballot and the Extraordinary General Meeting (EGM) held on March 29, 2024.

The approval of the EGM proposals paved the way for Think & Learn Private Limited, to issue fresh shares and conclude the rights issue that was aimed at tackling the liquidity crunch, including unpaid salaries, regulatory dues and vendor payments. But investors had requested the NCLT to stop the edtech firm's second rights issue as they expressed concerns that this would lead to dilution of their ownership in the company.

Last week, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) clarified that reports claiming Byju's has been cleared of financial fraud in an investigation are factually incorrect. It is about a year since MCA initiated the probe on Byju's.

The ministry had ordered a probe after Byju's auditor Deloitte Haskins & Sells exited due to delay in the filing of FY22 financial results.

Global index inclusion yet to reflect on Gsec yields

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THOUGH the much-anticipated inclusion of the government bonds (G-secs) in the JP Morgan's emerging market bond index from last Friday has overwhelmed the market with muted response, both in terms of inflows as well as in the flat bond yields. In the long-run this is going to be a game-changer for the finance street, say both bond dealers and analysts.

After closing flat on the D-day at 7.02% after rising to 7.1% in initial trade, the benchmark bonds closed 0.01% down on Tuesday, the third day since the inclusion at 7.012%, something nothing to write home about. The rupee also remained range bound and closed with a gain of 0.04 paise at 83.55 to the greenback.

For one, the bond inclusion will bring down the borrowing cost both for government and corporates both directly and indirectly. Secondly, it will increase foreign fund flows, which many peg it at least $25 billion by March 2025 and thus boost the rupee. Increased forex flow can boost the already-record high forex reserves as well as help bridge the current account deficit. But on the negative side, hot money inflows can raise inflation pressure, which RBI has been fighting since May 2022 with limited success.

Announcing the inclusion, JP Morgan on September 21, 2023 said it will be staggered over a 10-month period beginning June 28 to March 31, 2025, indicating 1% increment on its index weighting. That drew the curtains over the decade-long negotiations that the then Reserve Bank governor Raghuram Rajan started in 2013. Though 38 bonds are under the fully accessible route (FAR), only 29 of them are eligible for the JP Morgan index which requires a face value of $1 billion and at least 30 months remaining maturity. These bonds combined have a valuation of Rs 27 trillion or around $330 billion. The total Gsecs market is closer to ₹90 trillion.

On March 5, 2024, Bloomberg Index Services also announced inclusion of the G-secs in its emerging market local currency government index and related indices, beginning from January 31, 2025.

What's Expected Inflows?

The inclusion is likely to bring in $2-$5 billion monthly fresh inflows or around $25 billion by March 2025 when the country's weighting in the index is reaches the maximum threshold of 10 percent in the index, which will go a long way in bridging the current account gap. Higher weighting will allow foreign funds to allocate more monies to be invested in Indian debt.

Since the announcement last September, already $11.5 billion or about ₹91,600 crore came to FAR bonds. As per Clearing Corporation data, foreign banks bought ₹46,954 crore of G-secs from secondary market in June, while foreign portfolio investors lapped up ₹15,616 crore. As per NSDL data, barring April 2024, all the months saw positive inflows varying from a low ₹768 crore in September 2023 when the announcement was made to a high ₹21,063 in January 2024 and ₹19,759 crore in December 2023.

Hexaware Technologies to recruit 8,000 employees across countries

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

TECHNOLOGY solutions provider Hexaware Technologies has plans to hire between 6,000 and 8,000 employees globally in 2024, including India. This is for offshore, onshore, and near-shore centres in India, the US, Canada, Mexico, Poland, and the UK.

In India, it plans to hire for locations including Hyderabad, Noida, Coimbatore, Dehradun, and Bengaluru. Hexaware will also conduct recruitment drives in Ahmedabad, Indore, Pune, Mumbai, Chennai, Dehradun, Kochi, and Thiruvananthapuram. The hiring initiative will target a variety of in-demand skills with a particular emphasis on ServiceNow Tech Leads, Automation Testing Specialists (API), AEM Architects, Big Data Leads, and Workday Financial Consultants.

"We're actively seeking talented individuals across the globe to join our team. I'm thrilled to announce that Hexaware is expanding," said Rajesh Balasubramanian, executive Vice President & Global Head - Talent Supply Chain at Hexaware.

It said city-specific hirings would focus on Hyderabad and Noida (ITSM, HRSD, ServiceNow), Coimbatore and Bengaluru (Azure Databricks, Python, ADF), and Hyderabad.

Jobs in unicorns record 30% growth in June

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THOUGH there has been no significant recruitment activity in the IT and start-up industries, tier-2 and tier-3 cities showed signs of improvement in June. Unicorns recorded about 30% growth in June, as per the Naukri Job-Speak Index.

As far as hiring in the IT industry is concerned, the report highlighted that with 16% hiring, Jaipur, Kochi (6%) and Delhi-NCR (4%) emerged as bright spots.

In the FMCG sector, Mumbai (34%), Bengaluru (24%) and Delhi (23%) witnessed their strong performances. Though fresher hiring saw only 3% increase, professionals with over 16 years of experience saw a 41% growth. The report added that hiring in pharma or biotech witnessed notable growth in cities such as Hyderabad (18%), Baroda (27%) and Mumbai (14%). Pawan Goyal, chief business officer of Naukri.com, said, "As we have reported over the past year, the power dynamic shift in the Indian hiring landscape is well and truly underway with mini-metros consistently outpacing their metro counterparts. Gujarat has been a silver lining in an otherwise turbulent market and it is now encouraging to see emerging cities in Rajasthan such as Jodhpur and Udaipur join the fray." In June, AI-ML (artificial intelligence and machine learning) and FMCG with 20% and 12% showed positive growth.

However, Global Capability Centers (-7% YoY), BPO (-9%) and education (-9%) dragged down the overall index. Cities in Rajasthan and Gujarat witnessed resilience, with 36% Jodhpur, 21% Kota, 13% Udaipur and 13% Surat leading in new job creation. Both Bengaluru and Mumbai experienced declines in hiring in June.

Adi-Nadir family to buy 12.7% stake in Godrej Ind from cousin's RKN Ent

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

AS part of the family division announced early May, the Adi-Nadir Godrej faction agreed to acquire 12.65% stake in Godrej Industries through block deals from RKN Enterprises, which is owned by Rishad Naroaji, a cousin of Adi Godrej.

The 12.65% stake is of ₹3,858 crore as of Tuesday, raising their stake in the group flagship.

According to a statement filed to the stock exchanges on Tuesday, the group said the transaction will be completed through block deals and the 12.65% stake is worth ₹3,858 crore.

But they have not announced a deal price. Godrej Industries closed at ₹900.55, up 1.65%, on Tuesday on the Bombay Stock Exchange. On May 2, the Godrej family announced an amicable settlement—which many hailed as the most amicable family division that India Inc has seen, under which the Adi-Nadir and Jamshyd-Smita families would buy out each other's stakes for zero consideration in each other's companies.

While Adi and Nadir Godrej faction controls Godrej Industries, Godrej Properties and Godrej Consumer Products, the Jamshyd Godrej family controls unlisted Godrej and Boyce Mfg.

According to the the plan, the Adi-Nadir family will acquire an additional 20.84% shares in Godrej Industries from the Jamshyd-Smita family.

Following this deal, the Adi-Nadir family will own 52.01% stake in Godrej Industries, the holding company of the other Godrej-listed entities.

Brokerages on equity trade may go up following Sebi circular

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

NITHIN Kamath, founder and CEO, of discount brokerage firm Zerodha has said it may have to let go of the zero brokerage structure for equity delivery trades, which the brokerage house has been able to offer for the past nine years.

This is a direct impact of the latest circular by capital market regulator Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) asking stock exchanges to stop giving rebates to brokers.

"As a business, we may have to introduce a brokerage fee for equity delivery investments, which is currently free, or/and increase F&O brokerage," Kamath says in a social media post. Explaining the impact of the circular, he says exchanges charge a transaction fee based on turnover contributed by a broker in a month. "The difference between what the brokers charge the customer and what the exchange charges the broker at the end of the month is a rebate. Such rebates are common across the major markets in the world," he says. However, with the new circular, which says exchanges must receive the same amount of fee that the brokers charge from their customers, the brokers will no longer earn these rebates.

Kamath says Zerodha earns 10% of its revenue from these rebates, and that this could range between 10% and 50% for other brokers. For Zerodha, revenue from exchange rebates rose from 3% to 10% in last four years due to increase in options turnover.

Tears and sweat for fading star

Portugal's Ronaldo is not the force he once used to be and that could hurt their chances going forward in the Euros

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

IT'S that now iconic pose you have likely seen more times than you have wanted to. Cristiano Ronaldo sizing up a free-kick in the vicinity of the penalty box. On more than one occasion in the pre-quarterfinals against Slovenia on Monday, the Portugal captain struck a similar pose. A few metres away from the dead ball, the 39-year-old stood and scanned the vast green grass in front of him, like a predator.

Unfortunately for him, that's when the fun stopped. He struck the ball sweetly enough but it didn't trouble the keeper, Jan Oblak. You could even say only the pose is iconic, everything that follows isn't. After the end of the Slovenia game, one of the sport's greatest goal-scorsers had taken 60 direct free-kicks at all major senior international competitions. He had converted just one. Of course, this isn't to talk about Ronaldo's competence when standing over a dead-ball.

What's different about this iteration of Ronaldo and some of the previous ones with the national team is that he is appearing to hinder Portugal's chances of gold at this Championship. The ironic thing about the free-kick is this; he would have had far greater chances of beating Oblak had Bruno Fernandes or Bernardo Silva delivered a cross. One of the things the forward still has the ability to out-jump his marker before heading the ball goalward. But are Fernandes and Silva empowered enough to take the ball off him in those situations

I will always do my best for this shirt, whether I fail or not, and I'm going to do this my whole life. I've been doing this for 20 years — as you saw I missed the penalty, but I wanted to be the first to score (during shootouts) — Cristiano Ronaldo, Portugal captain

Portugal's Cristiano Ronaldo had emotional day out on the field before Diogo Costa's heroics helped the team prevail | AP/AF

(what compounded the issue was it was from an almost impossible angle; even with a joystick, you would have struggled to score).

Fernandes would have also been a viable alternative to take a penalty when Portugal got one deep into the first-half of extra time. Ronaldo pulled rank but saw his penalty saved, a sensational Oblak save. If the save was extraordinary, what followed was surreal. In the brief stoppage between the two blocks of 15 minutes of extra time, Ronaldo wept. Hang on, didn't he realise there was a match to be won. Missing a penalty isn't ideal, yes, but they still had a chance to win. The match was still level.

Portugal coach, Roberto Martinez, opted to keep Ronaldo on. The last 15 minutes predictably passed him by before the referee signalled for a shoot-out. Fair-play to him as he opened the scoring in the shoot-out but the Iberians advanced to the quarterfinals despite Ronaldo's ineffectiveness under the Frankfurt lights.

Their hero of the night was Diego Costa who kept the 2016 champions in the tie with a tight save deep into the second half of extra time before saving three back-to-back penalties in the shoot-out.

"At first I was sad, now I'm overjoyed," Ronaldo told broadcasters after the last 16 clash. "This is football. This is what football gives you. You cannot explain this. It goes from eight to 80. We had the chance to go ahead. I failed... I need to see it again, I don't know if I hit it right or not." There were other parts of the match — and the majority of Ronaldo's Championship too — where you were left with that thought. Did he hit it right? What's he doing?... why's he starting?

This version of Ronaldo doesn't offer the attack a lot. He doesn't press, he doesn't take part in the build up phase, isn't

Three cheers for Dutch

MUNICH: Donyell Malen's double sealed the Netherlands' place in their first Euros quarterfinal since 2008 as they beat Romania 3-0 in the last-16 match on Tuesday. Cody Gakpo scored the other goal for the Dutch, who will play either Turkey or Austria in last eight.

Result: Portugal 0-0 Slovenia aet (Portugal won 3-0 on penalty shoot-out); Netherlands 3-0 Romania (Gakpo 20, Malen 83, 90+3).

willing to drop into the channels and isn't mobile enough. What he's rather good at is taking shots (on 19 after the four games, leading this metric by a distance). In short, he possesses a lot of main character energy even if he's a fading force now. The irony in all of this is Ronaldo can still be a good impact substitute. He can come off the bench, occupy defenders and give the team another plan of attack if Plan A isn't working. But there's nothing in his career to suggest he will settle for a bit-part role. For example: even as some of the main players from the other teams had a night off during their teams' final group games after qualification was sealed, the 39-year-old started. The alternative would have been to give Goncalo Ramos (he has a World Cup hat-trick in a knockout game) a start to give him enough minutes before the ties that really matter.

If Martinez desires, Ramos will take Ronaldo's place for a crunch last-eight clash against France on Friday night. But do not hold your breath. The latter will start just because of the name on the back of his jersey. It needn't be like this.

Rohit & Co likely to arrive in country today evening

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

THREE days after lifting the T20 World Cup trophy at the Kensington Oval, the Indian team is finally set to leave Barbados on Tuesday evening (local time). Taking a charter flight, they are expected to arrive in New Delhi late Wednesday evening. After reaching the national capital, they are expected to meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi, but the timings of it are yet to be confirmed.

Having beaten South Africa to win the global title on Saturday, the Indian team led by Rohit Sharma, the support staff, BCCI office bearers and a significant part of the media contingent were stuck in Bridgetown for two days because of the hurricane Beryl. With airports shut down and the country going into a lockdown on Sunday evening, they were forced to stay put in Bridgetown. On Monday, the Barbados Meteorological Services, a government body, issued a statement saying that the eye of the dangerous Beryl hurricane had moved away from Barbados. "The Hurricane Warning for Barbados has been DISCONTINUED at 2pm today Monday 1st July 2024. Strong winds of 45 to 65 km/h (28 to 40 mph) with higher gusts will continue to affect the island this afternoon," the statement read. With the situation getting better on Tuesday, Barbados Prime Minister Mia Mottley was quoted by PTI saying that they want to resume normal operations at the Grantley Adams International Airport as a matter of emergency. "There are a number of people who were due to leave last night or today or tomorrow morning. And we want to make sure that we can facilitate those persons, so I would anticipate that within the next six to 12 hours the airport will be open," she had said on Monday.

The window becomes all more crucial as there is another tropical wave located in the Atlantic Ocean, 1100km east of Barbados. "The tropical wave is expected to affect Barbados early tomorrow Wednesday July 3rd, 2024. During that time there is the possibility of flash-flooding due to moderate to heavy rainfall, occasional gusty winds and agitated marine conditions," Barbados Meteorological Services said in a statement.

Harshit gets India call-up

With Sanju Samson, Shivam Dube and Yashasvi Jaiswal set to fly back to India from the Caribbean along with the World Cup-winning squad, B Sai Sudharsan, Jitesh Sharma and Harshit Rana were named as replacements for the first two T20Is against Zimbabwe on Tuesday. India will play their first match on July 6, followed by the second one on Sunday.

USA crash out of Copa, Panama beat Bolivia to secure quarterfinal berth

AGENCIES @ Kansas City

THE United States crashed out of the Copa America on Monday after a 1-0 defeat to Uruguay, as Panama sealed their place in the quarterfinals with a 3-1 win over Bolivia.

The tournament hosts suffered an upset 2-1 defeat to Panama last week and went into Monday's final Group C game at Arrowhead Stadium in Kansas City needing to match or better Panama's result against Bolivia to advance.

But US coach Gregg Berhalter's side never looked like doing enough to seriously threaten a well-drilled Uruguay who advanced to the last eight as group winners. "Just looking at the faces of the staff and the players, we're bitterly disappointed with the results," Berhalter said. "We know that we're capable of more and in this tournament we didn't show it. It's really as simple as that. We should have done better. "We'll do a review and figure out what went wrong, why it went wrong, but it's an empty feeling right now for sure." USA captain

Monday's results: USA 0-1 Uruguay; Bolivia 1-3 Panama

Christian Pulisic blamed a lack of attacking quality. "We had a good start and brought a lot of energy, but just didn't have enough quality," he said. "We just couldn't find a solution." Hopes of a great escape for Berhalter's men faded inside the first 30 minutes as news filtered through that Panama had taken a 1-0 lead against Bolivia in Orlando. US hopes were revived early in the second half after Bolivia equalised, leaving the hosts on course for qualification, provided they continued to hold Uruguay.

Yet the US optimism was punctured just moments later when Uruguay took the lead in controversial circumstances through Mathias Olivera on 66 minutes. Ronald Araujo's powerful header from Nicolas de la Cruz's free-kick was parried away by US goalkeeper Matt Turner, but only into the path of Olivera, who tucked away the rebound.

Major upset: Defending champ Vondrousova out

MARKETA Vondrousova on Tuesday became the first defending women's Wimbledon champion to lose in the first round for 30 years as Andy Murray ran out of time in his fitness race.

Czech sixth seed Vondrousova went down 6-4, 6-2 to Spain's unheralded Jessica Maneiro in 66 minutes. Vondrousova is only the second defending champion to lose in the first round at the All England Club in the Open Era. The only other time it has happened was 30 years ago, when Lori McNeil defeated three-time defending champion Steffi Graf in the 1994 opening round.

World No 83 Bouzas Maneiro, playing in only the third Grand Slam main draw of her career, broke her opponent five times in the match under the roof on Centre Court. Until Tuesday she had never defeated a top-40 player, while her only other grass-court match this year was a first-round loss in a low-key event in Italy.

World Championship challenger D Gukesh has survived pretty well despite living dangerously in a couple of games.

Vaughan and Flintoff sons in Eng U19 team

LONDON: Fifteen years after England duo of Michael Vaughan and Andrew Flintoff ended their Test careers, their sons are likely to begin their journey in the traditional format at the age-group level in two Tests against Sri Lanka. Archie Vaughan was on Tuesday named in a 14-member squad that also includes 16-year-old Rocky Flintoff.

AIMING FOR GLORY

Shot put to archery, Kaur's journey

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

WHEN Deepika Kumari first represented India in the 2012 Olympics, Bhajan Kaur, the archer from Haryana, was only seven years old. Fast forward to Paris 2024, the duo and Ankita Bhakat are part of India's women's archery team in the Olympics. Bhajan had already won the individual quota by clinching gold at the final world qualifying tournament in Antalya before World Cup stage three. Days later the women's team also gained the quota based on the updated World Archery rankings.

India topped the rankings among the non-qualified nations in both men's and women's sections to seal their team quotas. With that India has an opportunity to compete for all five medal events in Paris — men's and women's teams, individual and mixed categories. "It was a great feeling when I won the individual quota because we had none for women before that," Kaur told this daily. "Winning the gold medal in the world qualifier also gave us the confidence that we could do better in the World Cup that followed and clinched the team's quota. We were all together when we received the news that we had earned the team quota. It took us some time and we had to put in some fight, but I am happy," the 18-year-old added.

Coming from an agricultural family, recurve archery was never a first-choice sport for Kaur; it was shot put. "I used to practice for the shot put. One of those days my teacher, Parminder sir, said why don't you give archery a chance. We didn't have any girl archers in the under-14 level and I decided to give it a go. One of the senior players saw me practice and reassured me that I was doing well. Then we went from Ellenabad to Hisar. When we went to the district place, Mehra sir told me I could go places with my archery. Then I took it seriously. Earlier, me and my father used to travel to Sirsa for practice, but then he installed the target at our home. Later, I got selected in Tata Archery Academy and I have been practicing there for almost three years now.

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

ANSHU Mali, a strong medal contender in the 57kg women's wrestling at the 2024 Paris Olympics, submitted a status report on her injury to the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) on Tuesday. The discharge summary, submitted by her to the WFI, advises her to 'rest with no wrestling practice for the next two weeks.' To add context to the development, the competition in the former World Championships silver medalist's weight category will begin on August 8 with the medal rounds scheduled the next day.

Despite concerns surrounding her health, the WFI and Anshu's father, Dharamveer Malik, were optimistic about her participation at the Games with the latter claiming the wrestler has even started training and is expected to leave for Japan for further training ahead of the quadrennial event. "She, along with me, and a physiotherapist will leave for Japan next week. She has started training at her academy," the father told this daily.

Speaking on the issue, a WFI source said, "As was announced by the federation, Anshu is the official entry for the 57kg. The WFI has received her medical case report today (Tuesday). She is expected to go for follow-up with treating doctors on Wednesday and update the federation."

Anshu, who booked her Paris ticket during the Asian Olympic Games Qualifier, got injured while training at a wrestling academy in Hisar, Haryana on June 19. She had pain in the neck, radiating to the left shoulder. After receiving physiotherapy for three days, she went to a hospital in Rohtak on June 23 before eventually getting admitted in a hospital in New Delhi. She was discharged from the hospital on June 28.

The Indian Olympic Association (IOA) had sent a long list of athletes including wrestlers for the Paris Games on March 31 this year. The last date to make changes in the list is July 11. However, there is a provision for amendment in the list even after the deadline in case of an injury with a rider — only one among the athletes named for a particular event can be sent as the replacement. "We have named four top wrestlers in each weight category. So in a worst-case scenario, if Anshu doesn't compete, then selection trials will be held between the other three wrestlers and the winner of the same will be named for the Olympics. If Anshu proves her fitness, then there will be no need for doing all these exercises," noted the WFI source.

THE BATTLE

The battle was fought from July 1 to 3, 1863, resulting in victory over the Union forces by Confederate forces during the American Civil War

CE's guide to happenings in the city

In recent years, the passion for off-road adventure – driving and riding – among Bengalureans has surged, with enthusiasts flocking to academies and dirt parks scattered around the city's outskirts to master the basics of bike handling and honing skills for challenging competitions

DESE GOWDA

A constant blur of speed, obstacles, and uneven terrain, off-road trail riding is not for the faint-hearted. Whether you're on a lean, mean two-wheel machine or cocooned in a four-ton trail-eating SUV, both require deft skill and, more importantly, self-belief and confidence. Over the last few years, the launch of affordable adventure bikes, starting around ₹1.5 lakh and 4x4s, priced between ₹8 and ₹10 lakh, has driven adventure-seeking Bengalureans to flock to academies, eager to learn the crucial skills needed to conquer unexplored trails.

Moto Farm, near Kanakapura, launched just before the lockdown. Despite a challenging beginning, the facility has since flourished, teaching riders not just how to operate bikes but how to fully enjoy and master them. "Now, there are affordable motorcycles to choose from, which wasn't an option earlier. The affordability has changed riding in India, encouraging more off-road adventures," says Dishank, the founder. "We train people for both off-road and on-road riding. We don't adhere to old-school methods of just getting from one place to the other; we focus on enjoying the process and mastering proper techniques."

They provide customised training for two-wheelers with packages priced between ₹5,000 and ₹25,000 per day. The clientele typically ranges in age between 26 and 40, with increasing interest from women. "We are striving to break the stereotype that motorbiking is solely for men or that women can only engage in touring, not proper off-roading," he says.

Meanwhile, as the sole dirt park conveniently close to the city, Tribal Adventure Cafe near Devanahalli has become a hub for young motorsport enthusiasts. It attracts those aspiring to enter various racing categories, from motorbikes to 4x4s. "We get a lot of interest from young kids aged five to 15, especially since we post about our training on social media. Corporate groups are looking for weekend activities as well. With motorsports having gained more visibility, parents are keen to involve their kids in the sport," shares Dev Venkatesh, co-founder and principal trainer. "We saw a significant increase post Covid. Before that, we had more adults interested in adventure riding. Now, we see a lot more kids and aspiring racers joining us. During the Covid-induced lockdowns, many people had nothing to do, which led them to start riding motorcycles. This shift has brought more young talent into the sport."

A self-taught adventure rider turned rally racer, Sameera Dahiya has been sharing her passion for riding with fellow enthusiasts, particularly women, for the last few years. Despite the growing interest in adventure riding in general, mainly due to the exponential increase in popularity of motorsports in recent years, Dahiya finds women to be well behind their male counterparts due to various obstacles. "Interest and accessibility are key factors. Off-roading is a sport, not just an additional skill. Many women struggle to connect with off-roading due to fear, as it involves a significant adrenaline rush compared to tarmac riding, which is more about mental and physical coordination. Some also don't have the right motorcycles for off-roading; their bikes are more suited for touring or city riding, which limits them both mentally and physically," she explains.

Nonetheless, Dahiya, once a techie, has noticed a growing interest among women to break that stereotype and is offering one-on-one and group workshops, helping encourage more women to embrace the thrill of off-roading.

Embracing absurdity

Taking a creative risk with an adaptation of Eugene Ionesco's Rhinoceros is director Kirtana Kumar, who explores the dangers of conformity FITTING in and conforming to your surroundings to be more amicable instead of being yourself is a decision many face, in school, office or interpersonal relationships. Everyone is looking for some form of acceptance but often in the process of conforming, there is a risk of losing one's unique identity. Renowned theatre director Kirtana Kumar is bringing a fresh adaptation of Rhinoceros, a play exploring the dangers of conformity, originally written by the renowned French-Romanian playwright Eugene Ionesco as a satirical commentary on rising fascism in 1930s France. Talking about her inspiration for adapting Rhinoceros, Kumar reveals that it was her teenage students who propelled the project forward. "They had been reading sections of the text during class and were falling over themselves laughing. They felt connected to the themes through their own experiences with peer pressure, body image, and oppressive herd mentality. So they actually pushed me to stage it," she shares.

POOJA DAS

The setting has been reimaged to resonate with the young performers, placing the town square in Bengaluru instead of France. The story unfolds in a small town square, where its inhabitants gradually transform into rhinoceroses. The play follows the protagonist, Berenger, who resists this metamorphosis while his best friend Jean and others succumb to the allure of conformity. "Our children are under enormous pressure of conformity today. A parent recently told me that the 'uniforms' of thought and appearance we're seeing, in terms of what children will wear, consume, and so on is strangely like the uniforms worn in, for instance, communist China. Except this uniformity is one born of capitalism! Magnifying what children go through is the need of the hour," says Kumar, adding that it should be seen as a 'cautionary tale'.

The play's most striking metaphor being the transformation of humans into rhinoceroses, symbolises the seductive nature of totalitarian ideology. Kumar acknowledges the challenge of depicting this transformation, particularly for 14-year-old Maaya Narrain, who plays Jean and undergoes a physical transformation within the structure of Act II Scene I. "Abha Vajrath has created shadow puppets as well as the rhinoceros mask. We're approaching

Our children are under enormous pressure of conformity today...in terms of what they wear, consume... Magnifying what children go through is the need of the hour the transformation with elements of physical theatre," highlights Kumar.

Her directorial approach aims to stay true to Ionesco's vision while also bringing her perspective, particularly through the lens of her young actors. "The guiding directorial principle here is that these are children performing Ionesco's Rhinoceros. What are their concerns and how do they relate to the text? I try to watch the kids and see what they bring to the table and then magnify that. It could be a certain physicality or a way of articulation," she explains. Ionesco's work is emblematic of the Theatre of the Absurd, a genre that Kumar and her students at Theatre Lab (Youth) embrace wholeheartedly. "It is a form that allows one to play and take creative risks. We often say that the breaks with logic, repetition of phrases, and use of clichés sometimes feel more real than so-called realism," notes Kumar. This embrace of absurdity helps balance the play's more serious themes, allowing the production to explore profound ideas in a manner that is both entertaining and thought-provoking.

Kumar hopes the audience will leave the theatre with a sense of laughter, wonder, and curiosity. "We hope the audience will go home thinking about things, like, what makes an anti-hero like Berenger resist fascist thought. Finally, we hope they ask the question – 'Am I a Jean, or am I a Berenger?'"

(The show is on July 5, 7.30pm at Jagriti Theatre, Whitefield. Tickets, priced at ₹300, on bookmyshow.com)

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE.

1 All the four watch-towers built by Kempegowda are on a hilltop or on an elevated place. One tower stands on one of the oldest rock formations on earth dating back to 3,000 million years. In 1916, Dr WF Smeeth of Mysore Geological Department termed the rocks as "Peninsular Gneiss" and was declared a protected monument by the Geological Survey of India. Apparently, this tower and the rock today is well within an iconic garden in the city. Name the garden.

2 Kempegowda-I is credited for building the Bull Temple in Basavanagudi in the 16th century. The temple houses a Nandi (bull) which is about 10 ft in height and 15 ft in length. An inscription at the pedestal denotes that a river originates from the feet of Nandi and flows westward. Name the river. Kumudavathi or Vrishabhavathi?

3 After the passing away of Kempegowda in 1569, a 3-ft bronze statue was installed posthumously in the year 1609 at the Gangadharashwara temple premises located at a popular hill on the western outskirts of B'lu. It is, perhaps, the only known historic image of the city's founding father. Name the hills. Shivagange Hills or Nandi Hills?

Dayal Padmanabhan to helm a crime thriller for RC Studios

Dayal Padmanabhan

R Chandru

CE FEATURES

RC Studios, which is bank-rolling the upcoming film, Father, is set to collaborate with director Dayal Padmanabhan for a multi-lingual venture. R Chandru, who heads the production house, along with Alankar Pandian of Invenio Origin Company and businessman Seekal Ramachandra Gowda, confirmed to CE that Dayal Padmanabhan's upcoming film will be among several projects planned under their banner. This film, described as a crime thriller, will begin production as soon as Father completes filming in Mysuru.

"All films produced under our banner, regardless of language, will receive a pan-India release and prioritise compelling content," stated Chandru. "Our production house aims to expand its creative footprint across regional languages while maintaining a national appeal to captivate audiences across different regions," he adds.

In addition to Father, and the upcoming project with Dayal Padmanabhan, RC Studios has also announced a film starring Shivarajkumar. They have also registered titles such as POK, Sri Ramabana Chirita, Dog, and Kabzaa 2.

Ramesh Aravind

Vikhyath directs the untitled Ramesh Aravind-Ganesh starrer, which is set to commence filming on the Varamahalakshmi festival

A SHARADHAA

DIRECTOR Vikhyath has managed to bring together two celebrated actors, Ramesh Aravind and Ganesh, marking their first on-screen pairing. The project, still untitled but hyped as "The greatest show never seen," has already sparked intrigue with its initial poster featuring Ramesh Aravind and Ganesh amidst soldiers in a foreign location.

Adding to the excitement, the makers celebrate Golden Star Ganesh's birthday on Tuesday with a special postcard. Dated back to 1970 and featuring a Shanghai motif and flight insignia, the postcard showcased youthful portraits of Ganesh and Ramesh Aravind, with a nostalgic touch including a whistle—an emblematic element hinting at the storyline's essence.

Director Vikhyath elaborated on the significance of the postcard, stating, "Every detail ties into our narrative, offering a glimpse into the story we're crafting, ahead of the first look to be unveiled on August 16, coinciding with our auspicious muhurat day on Varamahalakshmi festival. We are currently planning an elaborate photoshoot set this week."

"The film spans multiple eras, primarily set against the backdrop of the 1990s," Vikhyath revealed. "We're set to begin filming on festival day, when we will be revealing the title and teaser, and this special postcard serves as our invitation to audiences."

Producing this ambitious project is Satyarayala (who is also backing Anna From Mexico starring Dhananjay) of The Rayala Studios in association with Vikhyath Chitra. The production team is currently finalising the cast and crew, promising further announcements in due course.

'Cinema thrives not just on stardom but on compelling content and direction'

CE FEATURES

RANJITH Kumar Gowda, known for his work on films like Madarangi and Vasodigama as an assistant director, is again stepping into the limelight with his upcoming directorial Kagada. This nostalgic tale, set in 2005, promises to rekindle the essence of old-school romance amidst rural disparities. The film marks Ranjith's second directorial venture after his debut film, Apple Cake.

Speaking about Kagada, Ranjith describes it as a narrative steeped in the simplicity of teenage love, where emotions are expressed through handwritten letters before the era of mobile phones. The film unfolds in two villages and revolves around a poignant love story between two youngsters.

The cast features newcomers Aditya, making his debut as the lead, and Ankita Jayaram, a familiar face from over 30 films in Kannada cinema, in a pivotal role. The ensemble also includes Neha Patil, Bala Rajawadi, Ninasam Ashwath, Mata Koppala, and Shivamanju, along with 15 fresh talents who are part of a crucial sports event, kabaddi, reveals the director.

Ranjith remains confident in his choice of fresh faces in an industry where theatres depend on star cinema, which often dominates on the silver screen. "Even the stars were newcomers once," he remarks. "Cinema thrives not just on stardom but on compelling content and direction. We've seen films with big names fail due to weak stories, while fresh faces have delivered hits because of strong scripts." Beyond its nostalgic appeal, Ranjith aims to deliver a profound message through Kagada. "The story reflects on timeless themes of love transcending boundaries, even those of religion," he explains. "Set in early 2000, it explores how love can lead to both unity and discord within communities. Ultimately, it underscores the primacy of humanity over any differences."

Ranjith wears multiple hats in Kagada, handling the story, screenplay, and dialogues. Produced by Arun Kumar Anjenaya, the film boasts cinematography by Venus Nagraj Murthy, music by Pradeep Verma, and editing by Pavan Gowda.

Chad Stahelski to produce English remake of Kill

CE FEATURES

KILL, the action film directed by Nikhil Nagesh Bhat and produced by Karan Johar and Guneet Monga, is all set to be remade in English. Interestingly, John Wick-fame director Chad Stahelski will be producing the English version of the film. In a statement, Chad said, "Kill is one of the most vivid, wild, and creative action movies I have seen recently. Nikhil delivers relentless action sequences that need to be seen by as wide an audience as possible. It's exciting to be developing an English-language version—we have big shoes to fill, and I am looking forward to working with Nikhil, Karan, Apoorva, Guneet, and Achin to achieve that."

Last year, the action-thriller had its premiere at the Toronto International Film Festival (TIFF). Kill stars Lakshya, Raghav Juyal and Tanya Maniktala. Nikhil, the director, has earlier helmed films like Apurva (2023) and Brij Mohan Amar Rahe (2017). Kill is all set to hit the theatres on July 5.

SHREYAS PANDE

AWAY from the glamour and the spotlight, much of filmmaking is coping with everyday challenges. More so, when you set out to make an independent film, like Vinod Rawat, the writer, director, producer and lead actor of Pushtaini, presented by Hrithik Roshan. Vinod has earlier worked as the star's acting coach on films like Kaabil (2017), War (2019), Super 30 (2019) and Vikram Vedha (2022). So, when he was shooting for Pushtaini during the pandemic and facing multiple difficulties due to budget constraints, Hrithik offered his support. However, Vinod wanted to make the film on his own. "I think we pahadis have a strong sense of self-respect," he smiles. "Besides, I didn't want to take money from Hrithik. He is presenting the film on its merit; not because I am his acting coach."

Vinod worked with Hrithik to come up with different variations of performing the same scene. "Hrithik behaves as if he is still a student. He likes to explore and doesn't want to settle down," says the filmmaker. During the prep for Super 30, where Hrithik played a mathematician from Bihar, Vinod reveals how a certain style of walking made him get into the mind of his character. "We started doing random stuff initially. And one day, he found a walk," Vinod says. "Whenever he thought that he was losing the character, he just kept doing the walk and it gave him something more."

Vinod's experience as an acting coach was put to the test on Pushtaini, as it mostly featured non-actors and that too, from his own family. The cast includes his accountant sister, his LIC agent brother-in-law, his niece, and his paternal aunt, who lives in the village of Bageshwar in Uttarakhand. "Somewhere, I felt that if I use their energy and words in this story then it will be a win-win situation," he says. "Acting is all about what energies you carry within yourself. I believe that magic can only happen if you have a strong background with someone."

Casting his own family members also helped, as the film told a story that was deeply personal to Vinod. It features him as a struggling actor; Bhuppi, who dreams of making it big in the film industry but realises that he is not good enough. Soon, an MMS scandal threatens to jeopardize his career and he goes back to his hometown in order to fetch some money to silence his blackmailers. However, all is not well at home. "I wanted to say something about a father-son relationship because I also had a tough time with my dad," Vinod reveals. "When you are in your early 20s, you think your father is not understanding and that's where the conflict begins. However, over time, I have begun to understand him better."

Along with his family, his long-time friend, Rajkumar Rao also makes a special appearance in the film. Vinod credits Rajkumar for making him enrol in the Film and Television Institute of India (FTII). "He got into FTII before me and he used to show me films," Vinod reveals. "Later, he filled my form, got me into the institute, and helped me settle down there. Even when I came to Mumbai for the first time, he supported me in many ways." The two regularly read each other's scripts and discussed acting, among other things. "When I wrote the first draft of Pushtaini, I just went to Rajkumar for his creative inputs," Vinod says. "I don't know what calculations he made, but he told me that he is doing a role in it. I said I don't have the budget. He was like, 'Do one thing, hug me 4-5 times. I think it's more than enough.' So that is Rajkumar Rao."

After everything, Pushtaini released in theatres last week, a rarity for independent films in India, which usually don't find a release owing to lack of relevant distribution channels. Vinod feels that it is important not to give in to popular perception and keep telling stories that are deeply personal to you. "I know the path is tough, but it's not impossible," he says. "People enjoy watching big-budget mainstream films. But then there are some other heartfelt films that they want to watch as well. Gradually, these smaller films will become part of the mainstream," he concludes.
